The Paton Family of Largs

The following report was commissioned by Allan Dewar Paton, butcher, Largs, from Chris Paton (unrelated) of the Scotland’s Greatest Story genealogy research service, in October 2008.

Allan had in his possession many notes and trees handed to him over the years, with a desire to corroborate and collate them all into a single report that would definitively take the Paton story back to the Covenanter Captain John Paton, if possible, from whom the family tradition claims descent.

Additional research was also requested to help flesh out the stories of those earlier Patons who came before him.

The family was examined by going back through the generations, both through direct ancestors and their siblings. Little effort has been made at following the sibling’s lines forwards, though some information has been gathered from various sources, including members of the Paton Family History Forum, to whom thanks are given.

During the research some interesting stories emerged on the formation and development of the family’s butcher firm in both Largs, West Kilbride and Skelmorlie, connections to Australia and the United States of America, including ranch holdings in the state of Nevada, the Suffragettes, Presbyterian dissent, involvement in civic affairs in Largs, and considerably more.

The following is a history of Allan’s family in Largs…

Part One – The Confirmed family of Allan Dewar Paton

I started the tree research by working out Allan’s current family details, in order to bring the story completely up to date.

2) George Hendry PATON

Allan’s parents were George Hendry PATON and Isabella McGregor ALLAN:

3) James Campbell PATON

Allan’s grandparents were James Campbell PATON and Susan Margery THOMAS.

James also worked as a butcher in Largs. The picture below shows the old shop on Main Street, before the move to Crown Place in 1931 (James is in the centre).
James and Susan married in 1900:

After their marriage, I then found the couple in the 1901 census, living with Susan’s mother at Markerston:

Various reports list James as a youth playing football for both Largs Thistle F.C. and Queens Park F. C.

In 1912, James also took part in an international curling competition in Celerina, Switzerland. As part of the winning team, James was awarded a shield which had his name inscribed on it. This disappeared from the family’s hands for a time, until the day that Allan Paton received a phone call from a person in Edinburgh who had come into its possession, and it has thus returned into the family’s hands. The winning team were photographed with their spoils, as shown below (James is to the left of frame):
James became a Bailie of Largs in 1913. The following story from the Scotsman gives an insight into an aspect of his work in 1914:

New Municipal Course at Largs

The course on Routenburn Farm, which was purchased for the purpose by Largs Town Council, was opened yesterday afternoon by Provost Boyd. After the Provost had made the introductory speech, Mrs Boyd, in name of the Town Council, presented Bailie J. C. Paton with a silver cleek as convener of the Committee of the Council who carried out the work of purchasing and laying out the course. Bailie Paton, after acknowledging the gift, drove a ball with the cleek from the first tee, and the course was declared open. Thereafter a mixed foursome was played for prizes given by Provost Boyd, supplemented by the other members of the Committee, in which some thirty ladies and gentlemen took part.

The new club formed in connection with the course, the Routenburn Club, has now considerably over a hundred members.

(Source: The Scotsman 28 MAY 1914, p.11)
Just a couple of months later, James met the King and Queen, on a visit to Largs on board the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The couple were in the town for the Royal Largs Yacht Club regatta, the closing fixture of the Clyde Fortnight, as recorded in the Scotsman on 14 and 15 JUL 1920. The paper recorded that

“...In the course of the afternoon Provost Paton, with Mr Peter Morris, Town-Clerk, and Major Cockburn, Chief Constable, went aboard the Victoria and Albert, and were received by Their Majesties...”

and that

“...While the Royal yacht lay off Largs on Tuesday it was the centre of attraction for visitors in rowing boats, and Her Majesty particularly observed that many of the rowing parties were comprised of quite young children. Her Majesty stated to Provost Paton that at first she had felt concern for the safety of the young people, but that feeling had changed to amazement when she saw the skilful manner in which they handled the boats.”

The Home Secretary was also in town for the event:

“Mr. Shortt, Home Secretary, arrived at Largs about noon to take up duty as Minister in Attendance on the King. He was met at the Station by Lord Stamfordham, the King’s Private Secretary, and by Provost Paton, and was afterwards conveyed to the Victoria and Albert.”

On September 19th the Scotsman recorded the unveiling of the Largs War Memorial, the project for which was co-ordinated by James.

LARGS – The memorial to the Largs men who fell in the war was unveiled and dedicated in presence of a large number of people. The memorial is erected in a fine position on a grass plot on the shore. It stands 20 feet high, and includes a statutory group emblematic of the service men. On a pedestal are affixed bronze tablets bearing the names of 85 men who fell, belonging to or closely connected with the town. At the dedicatory service, Provost Paton, as Chairman of the War Memorial Committee, presided. Lt.-General Sir Aylmer Hunter Weston, M.P. for the Division, gave an address, and the unveiling was done by Mr T. Cuthbert Stewart, of Blackhouse, Largs. The minister of the parish, the Rev. Robert Oswald, dedicated the memorial and offered up prayer.

(Source: The Scotsman, 19 SEP 1921, p.9)

The following story from the Largs and Millport Weekly News from 26 SEP 1925 gives some more background on James’ history to this point.

For over 150 years the name Paton has locally been closely associated with the meat trade in this area. James Paton’s grandfather John, was the original pioneer who realised the possibilities of this branch of industry at the beginning of the long European peace. His two sons followed in due course, Dewar and Hugh, the latter subsequently opening up a business in West Kilbride where he carried out a lucrative and ever expanding trade. The elder brother, Dewar in Largs, had meanwhile established himself in his father’s business and began to take an interest in public life. A staunch Liberal and devoted supporter of the dissenting church, his was the brain that initially conceived the notion of creating the Burgh of Largs, the elaborate drainage system, the augmentation of the town’s water supply and the conception of the stately Clark memorial Church, built for the United Presbyterian flock in the early 1890s through the generosity of Mr John Clark of Curling Hall, one of the founders of the huge thread combine.

James C Paton worked in the meat trade industry learning different aspects of the trade. In his early years he was an active player/member of Largs Thistle Football Club. Later he had a distinguished career with the world famous Queen’s Park Football Club in whose ranks he will long be remembered for his bustling tactics in the after-guard. A bowler, an international curler of considerable renown, as one of Scotland’s representatives, he worthily upheld her honour by being in the team which won the International Shield at Celerina, Switzerland in 1912.

Mr Paton was returned as the ratepayers representative for the Middle ward in 1908-1909, created a Bailie in 1913, a Justice of the Peace for Ayrshire in 1914 and advanced to the civic chair in 1918. He held the unique record of only once being opposed at an election. In 1918 he was elected Provost and had the unenviable distinction of carrying through the ‘post war’ schemes which cropped up. His reputation for generosity stands out clearly in the annals of the town.

In 1922, along with the then Town Clerk Peter Morris, James C Paton attended court on board the ‘Victoria & Albert’ moored in Largs Bay where they were duly presented to King George V, the Queen and Princess Mary on the eve of the Royal Yacht Regatta.

James C Paton was a hard worker for the Northern District of the Ayrshire County Council and was vice-president of the Federation of the Meat Trade as well as being involved in numerous other activities. He was described as a man of simple tastes who disliked the limelight and was happiest listening to the wireless or playing whist.

On 6 NOV 1929, the Scotsman recorded James’ successful re-election to the Middle Ward in Largs with 329 votes (p. 14). Three days later, James, by now ex-Provost, advocated that the council stick to its policy of not paying for the connection of a gas supply to light up the face of the town clock, but was overruled (The Scotsman, 9 NOV 1929, “Largs to Have its Clock Lit”, p.11). On the same day, the paper also noted that “Ex-Provost Paton was reappointed a Police Judge” (p.15).

On 8 JUL 1930, James found two Largs men guilty under the betting laws, but had some sympathy for their plight:
Largs and Betting laws

Two local bookmakers pleaded guilty at Largs Police Court yesterday to charges of contravening the street betting laws. William Cairney, Allanpark Street, Largs, was fined £4, 4s, or 20 days’ imprisonment, and Peter Strachan, Boyd Street, Largs, was fined £3, 3s., or 10 days’ imprisonment. It was stated on behalf of Strachan that he was unfit for active service. The Fiscal said that under the Street Betting Act of 1906 it was the absolute duty of the police to enforce the law, and until people like the accused managed to alter the statutes the authorities must carry out their duties. Ex-Provost Paton, in passing sentence, said that it was no use expressing his opinion on the anomalies of the betting laws. He recognised that the rich man could telephone his bets, and that the same facilities were not available for the working man; but it was his duty to administer the law as it stood.

(Source: The Scotsman, 8 JUL 1930, p.7)

On 2 AUG 1930, James was asked, along with a Bailie White and a Bailie Mrs Morris, to speak to Provost R. B. McPhaden, to ask him to change his mind about his suddenly announced surprise resignation from the council (Source: The Scotsman, 2 AUG 1930, Largs Provost Resigns, p. 9).

The Largs and Millport Weekly News carried a report on 18 JUL 1931 which stated that James’ butchers shop was formerly at 26 Main Street, but that a new shop was being opened at Crown Place.

In an article in the Scotsman in 1936, announcing the proposed acquisition of 550 acres of land on which to extend the size of Largs, James commented that “personally he would rather have Largs as it was when he was a boy, but with the great influx of population the extension was necessary” (The Scotsman, “Largs Extension Scheme”, 15 JAN 1936, p. 12).

On 30 MAY 1936, James and his brother placed their butchers company on the stock exchange:

On 1 DEC 1936, another of James’ cases as a magistrate hit the papers. A man called David Pirie Gray had been charged with recklessly steering a speed boat, forcing a wash to knock four people from another boat and into the sea. At one point the witnesses encountered difficulty in explaining the situation, and James came to the rescue:

“Difficulty was experienced by witnesses in giving evidence as to the location of the mishap, and ex-Provost Paton, the Magistrate, came to the rescue by making a model of the rowing boat from blotting paper. An ink bottle was used to represent Largs Pier, and a small tin box represented a yacht which was in the vicinity at the time of the mishap.”

The case against Gray was eventually found non-proven (The Scotsman, 2 DEC 1936, “Largs Speed Boat Pilot”, p. 10)

On 13 OCT 1937, the Scotsman recalls that James offered himself up for re-election in Largs (“Civic Contests”, p.9). The paper notes ten days later on 23 OCT 1937 that he was successful in retaining the Middle Ward seat (p. 17).

In January 1938, James was honoured by the town council for 30 years of service.

Largs Ex-Provost Honoured

In recognition of almost 30 years service on Largs Town Council, Ex. Provost J. C. Paton, “father” of the Council, was entertained at a complimentary lunch by the members and officials yesterday, and presented with a silver salver.

Provost Lindsay presided, and Councillor Mrs. Morris made the presentation. Tributes were made to the leading part Mr. Paton had taken in the schemes for the development of Largs.

He served as Provost from 1918 to 1921, and has acted as Police Judge for a long number of years. In November last he was appointed Dean of Guild, and this week, at a meeting of Justices of the Peace, he was appointed chairman of the new Juvenile Court panel for Largs district.

(Source: The Scotsman, 29 JAN 1938, p. 11)

As a part of James’ new role on the Juvenile Court, a story was recorded in the Scotsman on 15 AUG 1939. A man and his son had been required to attend a hearing, but had failed to do so. Forty minutes after the hearing started, the man arrived, claiming he had not been aware that he was to appear, despite the Probation Officer stating he had informed him of the requirement. James’ next response showed his sense of humour and wit:

…”Ex-Provost Paton said the bench would overlook the matter, but the Court had been treated very badly.
When asked to plead, the boy adhered to a plea of not guilty which was tendered in a previous Court, and the case was again continued till September 4.

Ex-Provost Paton (to the father) – Put a string round your finger to remember that.

James C Paton retired from the Town Council in 1946, after 38 year service. He died at his home ‘Gowanlea’ on 8th January 1948 and was buried in Largs Cemetery. Mr Paton had two sisters, Christina and Harriet (Mrs Shepherd), and a brother Dewar, who lived abroad.

An obituary on James’ death was also provided in the Scotsman:

Ex-Provost of Largs Dead

A member of Largs Town Council for 38 year, ex-Provost James C. Paton died yesterday, aged 74. he retired from public work two years ago. Mr. Paton held the Provostship from 1918-21, and one of the events of his term was his reception by King George V and Queen Mary aboard the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, when they visited the Clyde for the regatta of the Royal Largs Yacht Club. A keen sportsman in his youth, Mr Paton played for Largs Thistle F. C. he had an international reputation as a curler, and in 1912 was one of the Scottish team which won the International Shield at Celerina, Switzerland. Ex-Provost Paton was principal in a Largs firm of butchers, founded by his grandfather more than 100 years ago, and was a vice-president of the Scottish Meat Traders Federation.

James left a will:

(Source: Confirmations and Inventories 1948, The Mitchell Library, Glasgow)

The Scotsman also has coverage of the confirmation of his will six months later, which shows that his estate was in fact worth considerably more:

Paton, James Campbell, butcher, Gowanlea, 11 Gogo Street, Largs...£17,444

(Source: The Scotsman, 30 JUN 1948, “Wills and Estates”, p.3)
As well as their son George, James and Susan had the following children:

On 2 MAR 1928, James and Maude were recorded as having arrived at New York on board the S.S. Cameronia. James was noted as a 25 year old architect from Largs, whilst Maude was a 21 year old housewife from Lesmahagow, their visas having been granted on 5 JAN 1928. Both were noted as being resident at Largs. (Source: New York Passenger Lists 1820-1957 Ancestry.co.uk)

James entered into partnership at some stage after this with Frank Cecil CALLAHAN, over a hotel on the Isle of Bute known as Hillside Boarding House. The partnership ended when Frank retired in 1934, as recorded in the Edinburgh Gazette:
As noted, James continued the business running.

James and Maude divorced just a year later, on 30 MAR 1935, at the instance of James, who was at this stage recorded as still residing at Hillside, Rothesay (Register of Corrected Entries Vol.15 p.196).

Maud eventually died in Victoria Hospital annex in Rothesay in 1998. Her first husband was listed as “---- PATON, hotelier”. She had remarried to Ian HAMILTON, Commander in the Royal Navy (retired), and her death entry listed her date of birth as 11 APR 1906 (GROS D 1998 550/00 100 Isle of Bute).

On 3 MAR 1941, James, now an architect, had then married 34 year old art mistress Elizabeth PAUL, daughter of blacksmith Thomas PAUL and Annie Paul RAMSAY (GROS M 1941 625/1 44 Bothwell). Elizabeth was the president of an arts society in either Glasgow or Edinburgh.
James eventually died in 1983:

ii) Campbell Stewart PATON

Campbell was born in 1906:

Campbell married 21 year old Alexandra Ross WADDELL, daughter of William WADDELL and Elizabeth KEIR, on 10 SEP 1930 at Clark Memorial Church, Largs (GROS M 1930 602/1 21 Largs)

As mentioned earlier, the Scotsman of 30 MAY 1936 shows that Campbell was in business with his brother James as a butcher:

From Allan, it is known that Campbell saw war service between 1939 and 1945, but no further information has as yet been uncovered on this aspect of his life.

Sadly, however, the war took a heavy toll on Campbell, and upon his return he tried to commit suicide in the Gogo burn, as recalled by Allan Paton in December 2008. Campbell’s brother James rescued him in time, but not long after, Campbell was tragically more successful on a second attempt to end his life, passing away in 1947:

DEATH GROS D 1947 602/1 75 Largs

Name Campbell Stewart PATON, master butcher, married to Alexandra WADDELL

Died 13 MAY 1947 found dead at 11.30am, last seen alive on 20 MAY 1947 at 17 Waterside Street, Largs, age 41

Inf George H. PATON, brother, 80 Greenock Road, Largs

The Register for Corrected Entries (RCE Vol. 3 p.187) confirmed the cause as coal bar poisoning, but made the tragic conclusion that the death was through suicide.

Campbell did without intestate, i.e. without a will:

PATON, Campbell Stewart, 7 Douglas Street, Largs, died 12 May 1947 at Largs, intestate. Confirmation Kilmarnock, 27 August, to Alexandrina Ross Waddell or Paton, c/o Miller, 9 Blackdales Avenue, Largs, the relict. Value of Estate, £1047:13:1.

Allan believes that Campbell had a son called Jimmy, who emigrated to Australia in the late 1950s or early 1960s.
4) Dewar PATON

Allan’s great grandparents were Dewar PATON and Jeanie CAMPBELL.

The following photographs of Dewar and Jeanie were located from The Paton Family History Forum at MyFamily.com.

Dewar was a prominent member of civic society in Largs. The following summary of his contribution to the town was obtained in a Largs & Millport Weekly News obituary from the Largs and District Historical Society:

For over 50 years Dewar Paton was one of the most outstanding figures in public life in Largs. He took a prominent part in the agitation against the old Parochial Board, which as the health authority of the parish was introducing a gravitation water supply, resulting in the adoption of the Burgh Police Act and the formation of the burgh in 1876. A member of the first Town Council (then called the Commissioners of Police), Mr Paton served until 1878. He returned to the council in 1881 and was a member for 12 years this time, and after a year’s absence was returned again in 1894, serving till 1907 when he retired. He was a Bailie of the burgh from 1881 to 1883 and from 1885 to 1889. In 1889 he was appointed Provost serving for 3 years and again was Provost from 1898 to 1901. Altogether his council service lasted some 27 years. He took a most active interest in the work and one of the accomplishments he was most proud of was the paying off of the burgh debts to the Public Works Loan Commissioners and the substitution of loans from the citizens of the burgh and private individuals. This gave these people a ‘gilt-edged’ investment for their savings and saved the burgh a considerable amount in interest.

Mr. Paton was also a member of the local School Board for many years and was chairman for a time. He was a member of the first board elected under the Education Act of 1872 and took a prominent and progressive part in educational work for a long time.

When the Old Parochial Board, with its objectionable features, gave place to the Parish Council, Mr Paton found time to devote his energies to the work of the new body for a while and was one of the members of the first council. He had been a conspicuous opponent of the old unsatisfactory and obsolete administration of the Poor Law Act, with its unjust system of voting by mandates and other abuses.

In politics he was an uncompromising and steadfast Liberal and was a prominent speaker at political meetings in the Liberal interest.

Mr Paton was a lifelong abstainer and a strenuous temperance worker being connected with most of the temperance organisations of the district. In spite of his years and failing health, he showed his interest in the question was still unabated by his attendance at some of the meetings held in connection with the first No License Poll of 1920.

He was the oldest member of the local Good Templar Lodge at the time of his death, being the only survivor of its original founders. Mr Paton had joined the James Malcolm Lodge No. 405, in March 1871 as a charter member and presided for many years at the anniversary social meeting.

For 55 years he was an office bearer in the United Presbyterian Church of Largs (now Clark Memorial Church) both as elder and Preses of the congregation and his generous interest in the congregation, especially the young, was abundantly manifested. he was originally a member of the Free Church, but left that body in 1863, with several others, as a protest against the appointment of Dr Watson as minister, the objection being that Dr Watson was the nominee of the richer portion of the congregation as against the wishes of the more humble members.

Mr Paton’s interests were varied and intellectual, but he was greatly attracted to antiquarian matters, especially regarding the parish.
A busy public man for so long, he was also a keen businessman and managed to devote time to public affairs without neglecting his private business or his personal duties.

Dewar Paton died at Mansefield on 30th December, 1922, in his 82nd year. Mrs Paton had died in 1916. They had a large family, and their descendants still live in the Largs area.

(Source: Largs & Millport Weekly News 6th January 1923)

As noted, Dewar was a member of the Largs Parochial Board. In the Glasgow Herald in 1872, he is recorded as having moved an amendment in a discussion re: a complaint made to the Board of Supervision by the managing Committee of the Board with reference to the Inspector (Glasgow Herald, 15 JAN 1872: Largs)

On April 17th 1873 the Herald also reported on Dewar’s attendance at a Licensing Court in Largs, where he argued that hotels and public houses should not be open before 8.00am or after 9.00pm, and that if any deaths were found to occur in such a property, a license should not be renewed (Glasgow Herald, 17 APR 1873).

The Herald of Tuesday 14 MAR 1876 reported on Dewar’s nomination at a Ratepayers meeting in Largs, inviting him and three other candidates to attend a meeting of the ratepayers that Friday (Glasgow Herald, Tues 14 MAR 1876: Ratepayers Meetings and Nominations: Largs)

On 25 SEP 1877, a legal notice was placed in the Edinburgh Gazette officially dissolving the butcher shop partnership between Dewar and his brother Hugh, which both had taken over from their father:

Largs, 25th June 1877.

A report in the Herald of 13 MAR 1879 had a similar story regarding Dewar’s nomination to stand for council. Seven candidates were nominated, and the article describes how this would likely lead to a contest (Glasgow Herald, 13 MAR 1879).

Dewar was still at Boyd Street by the time of the census on April 3rd 1881:

1881 Census  GROS 1881 602/00 005/00 p.9

Dewar (Jnr) PATON son, age 11 months, born Largs, Ayrshire

Agnes HOLDEN servant, unmarried, age 18, servant (domestic), born Irvine, Ayrshire

In 1881, Dewar’s brother John emigrated to Nebraska, USA. Both Dewar and his sister Mary’s husband John CALDWELL went into business with John, purchasing 20,000 acres of land in Nance County, on which they ran several ranches, before selling up a few years later. (For the full story, read John’s entry below).

An article in the Herald in March 1882 shows when Dewar was nominated to the School Board for Largs. (Glasgow Herald, 13 MAR 1882: School Board Elections: Largs)

In the following year, Dewar placed another property up for rent:

LARGS.- House to Let, unfurnished, at Crown Place facing sea, 3 rooms and kitchen, water, WC. &c.- Apply Dewar Paton

(Glasgow Herald, 9 APR 1883)

At a meeting of Largs Heritors in February 1883, Dewar, referred to as Bailie Paton, made the following proposition:

“That the law in regard to church assessments is unsatisfactory and unjust, a violation of the principles of religious equality, and that the compulsory payment of church rates having been abolished in England it is unreasonable that church and manse rates should continue to be levied in Scotland”.

The motion was carried (Glasgow Herald, 6 FEB 1883).

An election was again held in 1885 for the School Board, with Dewar gaining 590 votes, the second highest number of votes behind John K. Boyd, banker (Glasgow Herald, 26 MAR 1885). As a member of the School Board, Dewar was further reported in the Herald on June 6th 1885 as being the Chairman, and as well as discussing the board’s finances, agreement was also made to contribute £200 towards the raising of a new school at Fairlie (Glasgow Herald, 6 JUN 1885).

In November 1885 Dewar was elected as a Junior Magistrate at a meeting of the Police Commissioners (Glasgow Herald, 10 NOV 1885).

By 1887, Dewar was still on the School Board, and a meeting that he chaired in June was reported in the Glasgow Herald, with the news that the pass rate given by the Government Inspector in Fairlie was 92% (Glasgow Herald, 4 JUN 1887). The Scotsman newspaper of 11 NOV 1887 also records Dewar as being present at an evening meeting in the Corn Exchange Hall of Kilmarnock, chaired by the Right Honourable Mr. H. C. E. Chiders, to discuss the Liberal Party’s support for home rule for Ireland (“Liberal Meeting at Kilmarnock”, p.7).

On July 24th 1889, the Herald carried a report on a scheme being proposed to the Burgh Commissioners with Dewar presiding, now noted as Provost. No decision was taken, so that ratepayers could consider the options (Glasgow Herald, 24 JUL 1889).

At a meeting at the Court of Session in October 1889, Dewar was stated to be in America. He was noted as the Chief Magistrate, and the discussion centred around the fact that he would soon be retiring from the Commission, and his possible replacement (Glasgow Herald, Wed 23 OCT 1889: COURT OF SESSION, 2nd Division – Tuesday October 22nd). A search of the passenger lists and immigration lists has so far not yielded any further details on his journey.

The water scheme for Largs was the big topic for 1890. The Glasgow Herald reported on several meetings, such as that in June to consider the cost of what had now become three separate proposals. The Noddsdale scheme was decided on as the safest, though not unanimously (Glasgow Herald, 28 JUN 1890).

On 20 MAR 1891, Dewar was noted as being one of 15 nominees for the election to one of seven seats on the Largs school board, and as being a member of the present board (The Scotsman, 20 MAR 1891, “School Board Elections”, p.7).

In the 1891 census, recorded on April 5th, Dewar was recorded at Mansfield House:
1891 Census  GROS 602/00 005/00 Largs p.17

On 28 SEP 1892, Dewar seconded a motion proposed at the 34th annual meeting of the Scottish Permissive Bill and Temperance Association in Glasgow, to support members of parliament after the recent general election in light of the rise in ‘prohibitory sentiment’, and in efforts to provide local authorities with as much power as possible to protect themselves from ‘the evil effects of the liquor traffic’ (Glasgow Herald 28 SEP 1892, SCOTTISH PERMISSIVE BILL ASSOCIATION).

A further discussion with regard to more immediate concerns in Largs was recorded the following month:

LARGS. – Provost Dewar Paton presiding. A discussion took place on the proposal to provide jointly with the County Council an ambulance wagon for the use of the burgh and parish of Largs, and it was agreed to stipulate for a two-bed wagon for the sole use of the burgh and parish.

(Glasgow Herald, Thu 13 OCT 1892)

On 2 NOV 1892, the Scotsman recorded that “In the North ward, Mr. J. O. Bryce, joiner, was returned unopposed for the seat vacated by Provost Dewar Paton...” (The Scotsman, 2 NOV 1892, p.9).

Continuing on the temperance front, the Herald recorded another meeting chaired by Dewar in 1893:

LARGS. – A meeting was held last night under the joint auspices of the Largs Good Templars and the Largs U. P. Church Temperance Association in support of the Government Liquor Traffic (Local Control) Bill. Ex-Provost Dewar Paton presided, and there was a good attendance. The Rev. G. Harding and Mr. R. Oransfield, of the S. P. B. A., addressed the meeting, and a resolution approving of the bill was proposed by Mr. Thomas Clark, and carried unanimously. It was also agreed to send copies of the resolution to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the member for the division, &c., and to send a petition in favour of the bill to the House of Commons.

(Glasgow Herald 25 APR 1893)

On November 16\textsuperscript{th} 1893, Dewar attended a meeting at St. Andrew’s Halls, Glasgow, discussing the potential disestablishment of the Church of Scotland. Dewar is recorded as ‘ex-Provost Paton, Largs’, and as being a member of the platform party, clearly in favour of the movement (Glasgow Herald, 17 NOV 1893: SIR C. CAMERON AND DR. RAINY ON DISESTABLISHMENT).

The Herald reported on 2 JUN 1894 that Dewar presided over a school board meeting where seventeen parents had been summonsed to explain the irregular attendance of their children. ‘It was evidently a belief among them that the necessity for regular attendance ceased after the visitation of H. M. Inspector, which was this year two months earlier than usual’ (Glasgow Herald, 2 JUN 1894: SCHOOL BOARD MEETINGS).

On October 31\textsuperscript{st}, Dewar was reported in the same paper as having been elected for the North Ward of Largs in the Municipal Elections. (Glasgow Herald, 31 OCT 1894: MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS)

In March 1897, Dewar was again elected to the School Board for Largs with 491 votes, one of seven chosen from a poll of eleven (Glasgow Herald, 29 MAR 1897: GLASGOW SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION).

A proposal by Dewar in January 1898 with regard to the Burgh Gas Act failed to get support at an adjourned special meeting of the Commissioners:

“On Friday night a proposal by Mr. Dewar Paton supported by Bailie Mechan and Commissioners Jack and Hill, to take a post-card plebiscite of the ratepayers before adopting the Act was objected to on the grounds that the Act itself provided for a poll on the subject at the instance of 20 ratepayers. A motion to adopt was made by Provost Watson and seconded by Mr. Hill: while Bailie Mechan moved not to adopt, seconded by Mr Bryce. On a vote, three voted for each, and the matter consequently fell to the ground.”

(Glasgow Herald, 17 JAN 1898: LARGS – THE GAS ACT)
There then followed a major falling out between Dewar and the Commissioners, as reported in the Herald in September of that year:

Aberdeen is not the only town in Scotland that has a slaughter-house difficulty on hand. Largs is in the same predicament. For many years past the Town Commissioners of Largs have wrestled with the problem of providing a public slaughter-house for the burgh. A site (with some good property on it) was acquired long ago by the commissioners on which to erect one, but the proprietors and tenants in the vicinity successfully resisted the movement, and this objection on the part of everyone to have such a building near his property has up till now been insurmountable. Six months ago Provost Watson reported that he could get a site that he was of opinion would meet all the requirements, but as it and the necessary buildings would cost about £2000, and only about £40 could reasonably be expected out of it in the form of rents from the butchers, the purchase of it was not proceeded with. At this point the commissioners fell on the singularly bold and thoroughly drastic expedient of throwing the onus of the whole matter on the butchers by refusing to license their existing slaughter-houses; of course in the hope, if not also in the expectation, that they (the butchers) would be compelled to do something. Six months were allowed the butchers in which to secure premises which the commissioners would license. That time elapsed on Thursday without anything having been done, and the butchers are liable to have their existing slaughter-houses shut against them at any moment. In fact, at the monthly meeting of the commissioners on Monday night it was agreed to instruct the police to proceed in the matter unless something was done by the 15th. As the 15th has passed without anything having been done, developments are being awaited. Mr Dewar Paton, the leading man in the butcher trade in the district, maintains that his existing slaughter-house is admirably adapted for its purpose and is kept in excellent order, consequently he cannot be expected to do more. The other men in the trade complain that when a skilled and powerful body like the commissioners have been unable in all those years to supply the town with a slaughter-house to suite their notions, it is extremely hard to expect them (the butchers) to do better. It is understood that the Largs Commissioners are the first body of the sort that have refused to license existing slaughter-houses before providing a suitable public building.

(Glasgow Herald, 21 SEP 1898: A SLAUGHTER HOUSE DIFFICULTY)

On October 17th, Dewar, along with three other butchers from Largs, was found guilty of using an unlicensed slaughter-house and fined 10 shillings, with the alternative of seven days imprisonment, each having failed to have their properties licensed as required by the Public Health Act 1897. Dewar appealed to the Justiciary Appeal Court over the conviction, as reported in the Herald of 24 JAN 1899, in which the following was noted:

“The peculiarity of the case was that the butchers were elected at the last municipal elections and turned the magistrates out of office, and were successful in getting their vacant places on the magisterial bench. The present magistrates had instructed the fiscal not to oppose in anyway the suspension of the convictions”.

The law lords considered the case but ruled that the four butchers’ convictions should not be overturned. (Glasgow Herald, 24 JAN 1899: JUSTICIARY APPEAL COURT).

The Herald also recorded Dewar’s presence at a meeting of the Select Committee of the House of Lords in Westminster with regard to a proposed railway connecting Largs pier to Glasgow, which would also connect Wemyss Bay, Kilmacolm and Paisley. Dewar’s testimony made it clear that the people of Largs were in favour of the development (Glasgow Herald, 5 MAY 1899: SCOTCH PRIVATE BILLS IN PARLIAMENT).

In December 1900, Dewar took John Watson, wine and spirit merchant, to court for slander:

OUTER HOUSE

(Before Lord Kincairney)

PATON v. WATSON

Lord Kincairney had before him to-day for the closing of the record an action by Dewar Paton, butcher, Mansfield, Largs, against John Watson, wine and spirit merchant, Bath Street, Largs, for payment of £500 damages for alleged slander. The pursuer is the chief magistrate of the burgh, and the defender is chairman of the Largs Gas Light Company (Limited). The statements complained of appeared in the form of a letter in the “Largs and Millport Weekly News” on 22d September last. Counsel informed his Lordship that there was no need to close the record, as the defender had unreservedly retracted all and every statement in the letter which the pursuer considered to be an impeachment of his truthfulness or to change him with hypocrisy, and declared all such statements unfounded. He apologised for having written them and caused them to be published. He further paid £50 and expenses of process. The pursuer accepted the offer, and the action was taken out of Court.

Counsel for Pursuer – Mr Guy. Agent – Wm. Fraser, S. S. C.

Counsel for Defender – Mr. Cooper. Agents – Simpson & Marwick, W. S.

(Glasgow Herald, Wed 19 DEC 1900: OUTER HOUSE)

In the 1901 census, recorded on March 31st, Dewar was still noted as resident at Mansfield:

The Scotsman of 9 OCT 1902 records Dewar’s presence on the platform party at a public meeting of the Scottish Permissive Bill and Temperance Association in Glasgow, where he was again noted as ‘ex-Provost Paton, Largs’. The report ends with:

“Addresses were afterwards delivered by the various Provosts, who spoke of the position of the temperance cause in their several towns”.

(Source: The Scotsman, 9 OCT 1902, “Scottish Permissive Bill Association”, p.6)
On 26 JUN 1906, a Mr. C. J. C. Douglas, of Haylee, Largs, J.P. D.L., was publicly thanked by the council for the gift of 26 acres of ground on the Haylee estate to the town of Largs, for the purpose of creating a public park (today known as Douglas Park). As part of the ceremony, Bailie Paton proposed a vote of thanks (The Scotsman, 26 JUN 1906, “Gift of a Public Park to Largs”, p.4).

On 6 JUN 1907, Dewar was noted in the Scotsman as having been appointed as a Justice of the Peace, and as being resident at Mansfield (“New Justices for Ayrshire”, p.6).

On 26 MAY 1908, Dewar was further recorded as being present at the Empire day celebrations in Fairlie, in his capacity as a member of the School Board, where a new Union Flag was gifted to the school and raised by Lord Glasgow (The Scotsman, 26 MAY 1908, “Fairlie – Lord Glasgow Hoists the Flag”, p.8).

The Scotsman of 8 APR 1910 records Dewar as a Largs representative of the Annandale Presbytery for the United Free Church of Scotland (p.9).

On 26 OCT 1914, the Largs and Millport Weekly News carried a report on the celebration of Dewar’s and Jeanie’s golden wedding anniversary celebrations at Mansefield. The following photograph was taken at the house during the celebrations. Dewar and Jeanie are seated centrally; son James is to Jeanie’s left, and George is the youngster in white seated at the front.

On 5 APR 1916, Dewar was again recorded in the Scotsman as an elder of the United Free Church of Largs, as part of the Ardrossan United Free Church Presbytery. He was noted again as residing at Mansfield, Largs (p. 5).

John Paton

2nd child & 2 Son of Dewar Paton & Mary Gibbie
Spouses Holland Green Kilmaurs brn 16th July 1819

John married Isabella HENDRY in Largs in 1840:

1840 May 30

Recd to proclaim John
Paton & Isabella Hendry
Both in this parish on one Sabb £1

Just six months later Isabella took possession of a property in Largs, as noted in the relevant sasine abridgegment:

ISABELLA HENDRY, spouse of John Paton, Grocer in Largs, Seised, in Liferent, in 10 Falls of ground in Barony of BRISBANE with the House thereon, on the west side of the Street from Nelson Street to Gateside, par Largs, on Disp. And Settl. By Grizel Hendry residing in Largs, Oct. 26. 1840.
G. R. 2356.277.

(Source: National Archives of Scotland, General Register of Sasines)

“Seised” is an old Scots words meaning “took possession of”, whilst “Disp. And Settl.” refers to a disposition and settlement. Grizel is likely to be an aunt or a sister of Isabella who had just passed away (Isabel’s mother was also called Isabel – see below).

I then traced John in the subsequent censuses:

1841 Census GROS 1841 602/00 002 Largs (Ayr)

(NB: In 1841, all adult census ages above 15 were rounded down to the nearest multiple of 5).

On July 9th 1847, the Glasgow Herald recorded a victory at a steeple chase in West Kilbride, which probably refers to this particular John, though this is unconfirmed:

* A Cart Horse race followed; three heats, won by a horse belonging to Mr. Paton, Largs.*

(Glasgow Herald 9 JUL 1847: Steeple Chase at West Kilbride)

John was again in Largs in the 1851 census:

John took possession of a feu from John Boyd four years later.

JOHN PATON, Flesher, Largs, Seised, in a small Piece of ground consisting of ...Falls, and 4 Poles of 27 Falls of ground on the west side of Boyd Street, LARGS, par. Largs; the first subject under burden of 2s 6d yearly; on Disp. By John Boyd of Tron, formerly Wright, and residing in Largs, Mar. 24. 1855 P. R. 383.44.

(Source: National Archives of Scotland, Particular Register of Sasines for Ayrshire)
“Under burden of 2s 6d” likely means the feu duty or ground rent payable annually on the property, whilst “Disp” refers to a disposition, the legal means for transferring the property.

In the following month, John came into some more property:

JOHN PATON, Flesher, Largs, Seised, in part of 16 Falls 1855. of ground on the south side of the Street from the High Road of Largs till it joins the Road leading to Brisbane, par. Largs; on Disp. By William Arbuthnot residing in Largs, Apr. 2. 1855. P. R. 383.47.

(Source: National Archives of Scotland, Particular Register of Sasines for Ayrshire)

The following Glasgow Herald piece was then found concerning John in the following year, 1856:

LOST, at Largs, on the 29th May, a little White DOG, with brown ears, and long woolly hair on the head; answers to the name of “Juba”; A Reward of £1 will be paid to whoever returns it to Mr. Paton, Flesher, Largs.

(Source: Glasgow Herald 6 JUN 1856)

An article from 1858 was also discovered:

In 1859, John became a creditor on behalf of John Davidson, and placed the following advert in the Glasgow Herald:

(Glasgow Herald, 11 FEB 1859)

In the 1861 census, the family are shown to be resident on Boyd Street, which would seem to suggest that the family moved here in 1855, upon taking possession of the feu:

John’s wife Isabella died in 1871, her death entry noting that the family had by now moved to Skelmorlie:

Isabella’s death was also recorded in the Ardrossan and Saltcoats Herald on 7 JAN 1871 (Source: www.ayrshire-roots.co.uk: Intimation database), her address again given as Skelmorlie Mains.

The family was again recorded shortly after at Skelmorlie in the decennial census:

John was stated in a family tree given to Allan to have died in the USA in 1871. This is to a small degree corroborated by the fact that no death could be found for him in Scotland, though his actual death record has yet to be found. No Scottish will was located for John.

Children of John PATON and Isabella HENDRY:

In addition to Dewar PATON, John and Isabella had the following additional children:

i) John PATON

John was born in 1842:

The following 1881 census excerpt records John in Glasgow visiting an Agnes HENDERSON:

571 Sauchiehall Street, Glasgow
John PATON visitor, aged 38, unmarried, farmer, born Largs

(Source: 1881 census – GROS 1881 644/9 26 Glasgow p.7)

Later that year, John emigrated to the United States, as noted in the 1900 US Federal Census for Nebraska. (The 1890 US Federal Census was unfortunately mostly destroyed in a fire and so cannot be examined). The same census which shows him resident at 4th Street, Fullerton, Nance, Nebraska, incorrectly lists his birth date as November 1844, instead of November 1842. He was noted as a grain dealer, and his wife of two years, Ella E. PATON, was also noted. She was aged 27, born April 1873, and from Illinois, though her parents were both from New York state. This was in fact John’s second wife, as also listed was a 10 year old daughter, Anne PATON, born SEP 1889. John was noted as having been in the States for 19 years, and having been naturalised as an American citizen.

The Ancestry website suggests that he may have sailed to the States on board the S.S. Anchoria, arriving in New York on 11 MAY 1881.

Forty year old John was found in the Nebraska state census of 1885. He was Scottish, and resident at Conncl Creek Precint, Nance, Nebraska. Also resident with him were W. H. PATON and Jane PATON, his bother and sister (Source: Ancestry – surname is mistranscribed as ‘PATIN’ in the index).

John’s death was eventually found in the Ardrossan and Saltcoats Herald of 2 AUG 1901 to have occurred in Skelmorlie Heights, Fullerton, Nebraska, USA. He was noted as the second son of John PATON of Skelmorlie Mains. (Source: www.ayrshire-roots.co.uk : Intimation database)

The following history of John’s life in America was found on the internet in the Compendium Of History, Reminiscence And Biography at www.usgennet.org/usa/ne/topic/resources/OLLibrary/Comp_NE/cmp0437.htm
JOHN PATON

John Paton, now deceased, was formerly one of the well known business men of Nance county, Nebraska where he had resided for many years. Mr. Paton was prominent in public affairs of that section, advocating by precept and personal example a high ideal of citizenship characterized by simplicity, frankness and directness, and in the pursuit of his career was an important factor in the upbuilding of his vicinity. We take pleasure in presenting a portrait of Mr. Paton on another page.

The "Paton Crest" is a bible and a sword surrounded by the words "Virtute Viget." John Paton, our subject, was the son of John Paton and Isabella Hendry, who were married in 1840, making their home in Ayreshire, Scotland. To this union were born ten children: Dewar, John, Hugh, Mary, William, Isabella, Jean, Janet, Margaret and Alexander. In her devotion to the family motto or principle, one Paton lady, about the year 1600, was burned at the stake - she would not recant. She was a protestant persecuted by the Roman Catholics. (NB: this appears to be a corruption of the Covenanting story: Roman Catholics left the scene in 1560…!! - Chris)

John Paton was born in Ayreshire, Scotland, on November 20, 1847, and made that country his home until he was thirty-three years of age, at that time coming to America. His first location was at Fullerton, Nebraska, where in company with his brother, Dewar Paton, and a sister's husband, John Caldwell, they purchased twenty thousand acres of land in Nance county, owning and controlling several large ranches. These they sold within a few years. After a time Mr. Paton engaged in the grain and lumber business in partnership with Fred Fuller, Sr., and continued with the concern for a number of years, then dissolved the partnership, Mr. Fuller taking over the lumber business and our subject keeping the grain interests and two elevators. He was comparatively successful in his business ventures and would have amassed a comfortable fortune by his efforts but for his benevolent nature. At the time of his death, which occurred on July 28, 1901, John Paton was classed among the philanthropic men of the state who had shared many dollars earned with those about him less fortunate than, himself.

Mr. Paton was married in 1888, to Miss Eliza Caldwell, of Chicago Heights, Ill., she being a woman of education and accomplishments, a graduate of Bloomington Normal College in Illinois. Her parents were Scotch-Irish. One child resulted from their union, Anne, now a student at the Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mrs. Paton departed this life on March 14, 1895, her. death occurring in California, and she was deeply mourned by her family and a large circle of friends by whom she was dearly beloved for her fine christian character and charming personality. She was buried in Chicago Heights, Illinois.

On September 1, 1898, Mr. Paton was married again, to Miss Ella E. J. Stillman, also of Illinois, being born near Peoria. Her parents were from New York. Miss Stillman had been a student at Lombard College, Galesburg, and at the Lincoln Normal College, also attended the Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln, Nebraska. She was a teacher in the Nance county public schools for six years, and in November, 1897, had the honor to be elected county superintendent of public instruction of Nance County, filling that office with credit and gaining the commendation of all by her ability and tact. Mrs. Paton attended many county, district and state teachers' associations. She is a woman of considerable literary talent, an elocutionist, amateur journalist and editor, also an artist of more than ordinary ability. In 1907 Mrs. Paton disposed of their pleasant residence with its splendid grounds, known all over the region as "Paton Heights," and has designed and built a beautiful home in Fullerton, known as "Ash Cottage." Mrs. Paton has been a delegate to several state and national conventions of various women's organizations and she is thoroughly progressive. Mrs. Paton is at the present time making her home with her two daughters, Anne, mentioned above, and Gladys, now in school at Fullerton. Gladys Paton is thoroughly a Paton, devoted to her home, school and church, and very much resembles her father and Anne in her looks, likes and inclinations.

For over twenty years prior to his demise, Mr. Paton had been an elder in the Presbyterian church, and was an active worker for the temperance cause in his state. He was county superintendent of Sunday schools for many years, and had given a number of very successful lectures on temperance and biblical subjects and on "Christian Citizenship." Mr. Paton traveled extensively, both in the United States and European countries.

Mr. Paton's eldest daughter, Anne, was born in Fullerton, and received her elementary education in the public schools of Chicago Heights, Illinois, and Fullerton. She is now taking a course in the classics at the Nebraska Wesleyan University, Lincoln, also studying music, for which she exhibits a marked talent, at the Nebraska Wesleyan Conservatory of Music. She is a young woman of fine mind and high christian ideals, and with her gifted step-mother, is a popular member of the social life of their community. Anne Paton inherited a comfortable legacy from her mother. The Paton home has a reputation for lavish hospitality and the guests have included many of the most worthy, capable, influential and scholarly people who have visited the community. The Patons have built four of the best homes or residences in Fullerton and indelibly stamped upon the town their love of refinement, good breeding and general culture. The Patons have been one of the families identified with the building of good schools, good churches and good homes in Nance county, Nebraska.
Also from the Compendium, we learn that John was involved in setting up a Presbyterian Church in Fullerton:

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On August 27, 1882, a group of dedicated Christians gathered to form a Presbyterian church in Fullerton. They met in the chapel of Nebraska Wesleyan University located on a hill in the northwest part of town. Under the guidance of Reverend George L. Little (Synod Missionary), they organized First Presbyterian Church. The charter members were: Mrs. M. G. Cowgill, Maude Cowgill, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Lindsay, Mrs. L. M. Mulford, John Paton, William Paton, Joseph Reynolds, Mrs. Hester Reynolds, J. S. Shuck, Mrs. Annie Shuck, Mrs. Jane Spackman, Hester Spackman and Hannah Spackman. Mr. John Paton and Mr. John Shuck were ordained as the first Ruling Elders of the church. The membership grew rapidly in the following years: 1883, 22; 1884, 38; 1885, 30; 1886, 26; 1887, 14; 1888, 17.

In a tree supplied to Allan PATON, further children were then listed as born to John and Isabella between 1842 and 1859. The births of those between 1843 and 1854 could not be found, and so it seems that the family were in attendance at a dissenting Presbyterian Church in or near to Largs, the records of which are not held at the General Register Office for Scotland.
However, their existence was corroborated through additional records…

These children were:

ii) Hugh PATON

In the tree given to Allan, Hugh’s birth was stated to have happened 5 OCT 1844, and his death in 1936, though no death location was given. These could not be found in the Scottish records.

Hugh married Marianne DUNLOP on 18 MAR 1865 at Grassmillside, Kilmaurs, in a ceremony according to the forms of the United Presbyterian Church. One of the witnesses was his brother, John PATON Jr. In the record, Hugh was noted as a flesher.

The marriage was also recorded in the Ardrossan and Saltcoats Herald on 21 MAR 1868 (Source: www.ayrshire-roots.co.uk Intimations Database), and in the Glasgow Herald:

At Grassmillside, Kilmaurs, on the 18th inst., by the Rev. Andrew Gray, Mr Hugh Paton, flesher, Largs, to Marianne, third daughter of Mr Hugh Dunlop.

(Glasgow Herald, Fri 20 MAR 1868)

In 1871, Hugh was found in Largs:

1871 Census, GROS 1871 602/00 7 Largs p.16
Crawfords Street, Compson’s Land

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 26, butcher, born Largs, Ayrshire
Marianne PATON  wife, married, age 25, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
John PATON  son, age 2, born Largs, Ayrshire
Hugh PATON  son, age 4 months, born Largs, Ayrshire
Jessie PATON  sister, unmarried, age 16, scholar, born Largs, Ayrshire

On 25 SEP 1877, a legal notice was placed in the Edinburgh Gazette officially dissolving the butcher shop partnership between Dewar and his brother Hugh, which both boys had taken over from their father:
Hugh is described as a flesher and auctioneer in some records, and as an auctioneer, a possible example of one of his roups (auctions) was recorded in the Glasgow Herald of 28 JAN 1880:

MYERS ROYAL CATTLE SPICE

FOR SALE

(Under Warrant of the Sheriff of the County of Ayr)

There will be exposed to Sale, by Public Roup, at the GOGO MILLS, LARGS, on Friday the 6th day of February, 1880, at Eleven o' clock Forenoon, by virtue of a Warrant of the Sheriff of the County of Ayr, 20 Cwts. of MYER'S ROYAL CATTLE SPICE, 112lb. Bags: 18 Cwts. of same Spice, in 55lb. Bags. and 2 Cwts. of POULTRY SPICE, in 2lb. Packets.

HUGH PATON, Auctioneer

Largs, 24th January, 1880

(Glasgow Herald, 28 JAN 1880)

The caveat here is that another Hugh PATON worked as an auctioneer in Largs at this point, Hugh married to Marion McKECHNIE (see later). Similarly, a property sale in Millport also made the Glasgow Herald news in September 1883.
MILLPORT – PROPERT SALE – On Saturday afternoon, Mr Paton, auctioneer, Largs, offered for sale, in the Town hall, that property situated in the West Bay, and known as Wailer Bank Villa. The property was put up at the upset price of £900, and after a slight competition between two visitors, was knocked down to Mr George Forrest, Old Thorn Tree restaurant, Dundas Street, Glasgow, for £965. Mr Crawford, of Messrs. J.C Smith, Macdonald & Crawford, solicitors, Greenock, was law agent in the sale. There is a bond of £700 on the property.

(Glasgow Herald, 17 SEP 1883)

Hugh was obviously a great bowling enthusiast as well, for he was recorded as taking part in a match between Glasgow and Ayrshire in the Herald of 8 AUG 1890. In this he is recorded as living in West Kilbride (Glasgow Herald, Fri 8 AUG 1890: Bowling – Glasgow v. Ayrshire).

In 1891, Hugh was located in Millport, Cumbrae:

1891 Census GROS 1891 552/00 2 Cumbrae p.17
Waller Bank

John COCHRAN  head, married, age 50, cabinet maker, born Glasgow, Lanarkshire
Eliz. COCHRAN  wife, married, age 48, born Haddington, Haddingtonshire
Eliz. COCHRAN  daughter, age 19, born Glasgow, Lanarkshire
Hugh PATON  boarder, married, age 46, butcher farmer and auctioneer, born Largs, Ayrshire
Marianne PATON  boarder, married, age 45, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
Isabella PATON  boarder, age 11, born West Kilbride, Ayrshire

An article in the Glasgow Herald recorded Hugh as an auctioneer in West Kilbride in its 22 SEP edition, concerning the auction of a property at Millport (Glasgow Herald, 22 SEP 1899: MILLPORT – DESIRABLE PROPERTY).

In 1901 the family were in West Kilbride for the census:

1901 census GROS 1901 620/00 6 West Kilbride p.20
Rowallan

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 56, flesher and auctioneer, born Largs, Ayrshire
Marianne PATON  wife, married, age 55, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
Dewar PATON son, unmarried, age 28, bank accountant, born Largs, Ayrshire
Agnes D. PATON daughter, unmarried, age 23, born Largs, Ayrshire
Isabella H. PATON daughter, unmarried, age 21, born West Kilbride, Ayrshire

In 1907, Hugh was owed so much money by a West Kilbride baker that he applied to the courts for his sequestration:

A PETITION for Cessio, under the Cessio Acts, has been presented to the Sheriff of Ayrshire at Kilmarnock, at the instance of Hugh Paton & Son, Flesher, West Kilbride, against T. J. JOHNSON, Baker, West Kilbride; and the Sheriff-Substitute has ordained the said T. J. Johnson to appear in Court, within the Sheriff Court House, Kilmarnock, upon the 30th day of October current, at eleven o'clock forenoon, for Examination, at which Diet all his Creditors are required to attend.

DAVID HARPER, Solicitor, Largs, Agent.
Largs, 17th October 1907.

NB: Cessio bonorum was a process where a debtor gave up his whole estate and was in return rendered immune from imprisonment on account of his debts – in essence, it was a form of sequestration, or bankruptcy proceeding.

From a posting by Grant Paton, on the Paton Family History Forum at MyFamily.com, the following information on what became of Hugh and Marianne has been found.

Australian cousins might be interested to know that Hugh Paton born Largs 5/10/1844 and Maranne Dunlop born Kilmaurs 12/10/1845 emigrated to NSW. They embarked on the P & O ship SS BELTANA in April or May 1913 (possibly from London) along with their son, the Rev. Hugh Paton. They landed at Brisbane in June 1913. There is a family photograph (undated) showing Hugh Paton on the steps of a bungalow named "Row Allan" at Narrabeen, NSW. The Rev. Hugh Paton was minister at St. Stephen's church, Sydney between 1925 and 1933. Hugh and Marianne lived with daughter Agnes (married to Albert Phillips) at 6 Drumoyne Ave, Sydney. Hugh and Marianne are both buried in the Field of Mars Cemetery, Ryde.

4 DEC 2006, Grant Paton

Row Allan is clearly named after their home in West Kilbride (Rowallan in the 1901 Scottish census). No will was found for Hugh in Scotland.
On 24 NOV 2008 Grant kindly provided an image of Hugh and family in Australia, with the following comments:

I can identify only about 7 of the 19 people in the photo, which was given to me by my Aunt, Mary, Diego's wife and mother of Dewar. The people I can positively identify are Hugh and Marianne (seated centre and holding three small children; standing at the rear and immediately behind Marianne is Dewar (my grandfather and on his left, Mary Helen Newbigging, his wife. Standing next to Dewar in the back row is, I am fairly certain, Hugh. He emigrated to Australia in 1902 and was minister of St. Stephen's Unitarian Church in Sydney from 1925 to 1933.

Who the two ladies seated at either end of the centre row are I have no idea but I suspect they are the wives of the two men behind them standing at either end of the back row. I can identify two of the very young children held by Hugh and Marianne: the boy between Hugh and Marianne is Robert Charlton Paton ("Bertie") (my father) and held by Marianne is James Newbigging Paton ("Diego") (Alan's uncle).

One important member of the family appears to be missing - and that is Hugh & Marianne's daughter Agnes Dunlop (b. 1877) - she was married in Australia in Jan 1912 so that might explain her absence.
iii) Mary PATON

Mary’s birth could not be discovered. She was found to have married on 19 DEC 1867 at the Mains of Skelmorlie, Largs, in a Church of Scotland ceremony. Her spouse was John CALDWELL, a 32 year old builder (GROS M 1867 602/00 31 Largs)

In 1871, the couple were in Largs:

1871 census GROS 1871 602/00 Largs p.4
Crawford’s

John CALDWELL head, married, age 35, master mason employing masons, 6 boys and 14 labourers, born Largs, Ayrshire
Mary CALDWELL wife, married, age 26, born Largs, Ayrshire
Peter CALDWELL son, age 2, born Largs, Ayrshire
John CALDWELL son, age 1, born Largs, Ayrshire
Janet MALCOLM servant, age 48, general servant, born Largs, Ayrshire
Grace BROWN servant, age 17, unmarried, general servant, born Stevenson, Ayrshire

John CALDWELL went into partnership with Mary’s brothers, John PATON and Dewar PATON, purchasing land in Nebraska (see above).

Mary’s death was noted in 1936:

DEATH GROS D 1936 602/1 94 Largs
Name Mary CALDWELL, widow of John CALDWELL builder
Died 28 DEC 1936 at 7.00pm, at Elm Cottage, 29 John Street, Largs, age 90
Father John PATON, butcher (deceased)
Mother Isabella HENDRY (deceased)
Cause Senility hypostatic pneumonia
Inf Margaret CALDWELL, daughter
REg 28 DEC 1936 at Largs

The recorded age of 90 places Mary’s year of birth at approximately 1846.

iv) William Hendry PATON

No trace of William could be found in the Scottish records, other than the records in the 1851, 1861 and 1871 Scottish censuses, which listed him as 2 and 13, and 23 respectively. In 1871, his occupation was noted as a commercial clerk in the Employing Office (see later). These entries place William’s birth year at approximately 1849. A birth date of 16 AUG 1848 is given for him on the LDS website.

William in fact went to America to reside in Nebraska with his brother. Aged 35, he was found in the Nebraska census of 1885. He was white and Scottish, and resident at Conncil Creek Precint, Nance, Nebraska. Also resident with him were John PATON and Jane PATON, his brother and sister (Source: Ancestry – surname is mistranscribed as ‘PATIN’ in the index).

William died on 26 JUL 1889 in Nancy County, Nebraska, as noted on the Scotland’s People website wills index.

William Hendry PATON

Date of Confirmation 6 Jan 1890

Sometime Clerk, Skelmorlie Mains, County of Ayr, afterwards Land Agent, Fullerton, County of Nance, Nebraska, U.S.A., d. 24/07/1889 at Fullerton aforesaid, intestate.

The Confirmations and Inventories also have him listed:

PATON, William Hendry
Value of estate, £437, 18s.

6 January. – Confirmation of William Hendry Paton, sometime Clerk, Skelmorlie Mains, County of Ayr, afterwards Land Agent, Fullerton, County of Nance, Nebraska, U.S.A., who died 24 July 1889 at Fullerton aforesaid, intestate, granted at Edinburgh, to Dewar Paton, Butcher, Largs, his brother, Executor dative qua next of kin.

(Source: Confirmations and Inventories 1890, Mitchell Library)

The fact that he died intestate means that he did not in fact leave a will, and that confirmation was made through a testament dative as opposed to a testament testamentary. The cause of William’s death given in family research notes held by Allan was drowning.

The inventory at NAS was checked, and his Scottish estate was valued at £437 18s, basically from a policy with the Reliance Mutual Life Assurance Society, numbered 12432. The following was noted with regard to his American estate:

Abroad

The deceased at date of death had certain Farm stock crop and such like at Fullerton aforesaid, but these were not of sufficient value to meet his obligations there.

v) Isabella PATON

Isabella was found to have died single in 1921:

DEATH GROS D 1921 602/2 11 Skelmorlie

Father John PATON farmer (deceased)
Mother Isabella HENDRY (deceased)
Cause cardiac disease, syncope as cert by A. Anderson
Inf Margaret CALDWELL, niece, Clan Cottage, John Street, Largs
Reg 9 MAY 1921 at Largs

The age of 70 places Isabella’s birth year at approximately 1851.

Isabella died without leaving a will:

Paton, Isabella Hendry, The Mains, Skelmorlie, died 7 May 1921 at Skelmorlie, intestate. Confirmation Kilmarnock, 20 July, to Dewar Paton, Mansfield, Largs, her brother, and Margaret Eliza Paton or Brunton, 30 McLennan Street, Mount Florida, Glasgow, her sister, next of kin. Value of Estate, £3012:11:10.

vi) Jane PATON

Twenty eight year old Jane was in the United States for a time, resident with her brother John. In the 1885 census for Nebraska, she was noted as white and Scottish, and resident at Connell Creek Precint, Nance, Nebraska. Also resident were W. H.
Paton and John Paton, her brothers (Source: Ancestry – surname is mistranscribed as ‘PATIN’ in the index)

Jane was also found to have died single, though much earlier, in 1903:
Jane’s death age being listed as 49 places her birth in approximately 1854.

Jane left a will:

"PATON, Jane, sometime residing at the Cottage Mains, Skelmorlie, thereafter at Burnfoot Villa, Largs, died 19 July 1903, at Burnfoot Villa aforesaid, testate. Confirmation granted at Kilmarnock, 14 October, to John Paton, Partner of James French & Coy., Warehouseman, Glasgow, and Peter Caldwell, Chemical Analyst, Penarth, her nephews, Executors nominated in Will or Deed, dated 23 May 1901, and recorded in Court Books of Commissariat of Ayr, 10 October 1903. vii) Janet (Jessie) PATON

With statutory registration having commenced in Scotland in January 1855, Janet’s birth was recorded. Records in 1855 contained much more genealogical information than for subsequent years:

6) Dewar PATON (and Mary GIBBIE)

Allan’s great great great grandparents were Dewar PATON and Mary GIBBIE or GEBBIE

Dewar’s birth could not be found. He was discovered to have married Mary GEBBIE in 1815. The banns were recorded twice, in the two parishes within which the couple were living at that time:

OPR M 598/00 16 DEC 1815 Kilmaurs

Kilmaurs Decr 16th 1815

This day Dewar Paton in this Parish and Mary Gebbie in the low church parish of Kilmarnock gave in their names to be pro-
Claimed in order to marriage 2 days

OPR 597/00 29 DEC 1815 Kilmarnock (Ayrshire)

December 29th 1815

Dewar Paton in the parish of Kilmaurs and Mary Gebbie in this Parish after proclamation were married

This shows that the date of marriage was 29 DEC 1815, and that Kilmarnock was Mary’s home parish, it being usually the tradition to marry in the bride’s parish. This was then confirmed from the censuses:

Dewar and wife Mary GEBBIE were all listed as communicants in the Associate Session of Kilmaurs in 1840. (Source: NAS CH3/193/3/83) There are several communicants’ lists before this but the couple are not listed together in them. A Mary PATON is listed in 1826.

The family were recorded in Kilmaurs in 1841:

NB: In 1841, the ages of adults over age 15 were rounded down to the nearest multiple of 5.

Dewar, wife Mary, daughter Agnes and son Hugh were all listed as communicants in the Associate Session of Kilmaurs in 1842. Hugh has an additional note beside his entry saying “Largs”. (Source: NAS CH3/193/3/81)

Dewar, his wife Mary GEBBIE and daughters Agnes, Margaret and Mary were all listed as communicants of the Associate Session Church of Kilmaurs on 28 SEP 1846. (Source: NAS CH3/193/3/79)

In 1851, Dewar was still at Holland Green in Kilmaurs:

Children of Dewar PATON and Mary GEBBIE

Apart from John PATON, Dewar and Mary had the following children:

i) Hugh PATON

Hugh was born in 1816:
Hugh Paton

1st Child & son of Dewar Paton & Mary Gibbie
Spouses Holland Green Kilmaurs born 5 Dec 1816

Hugh became a communicant of the Associate Congregation Church in Kilmaurs on 27 JUN 1836, where he was noted as residing at Hollin Green. (CH3/193/5)

Banns were proclaimed for Hugh’s marriage to Marion McKECHNIE on 24 AUG 1844 at Largs (OPR M 602/00 24 AUG 1844 Largs).

Five years later, on 6 OCT 1849, Marion was confirmed as heir to her deceased father in the Retours and Services of Heirs:

Paton – Marion: Wife of H. Paton, Grocer in Largs, to her father, John McKechnie, Weaver there – Heir General – 6th October 1849
(Recorded 1849, Oct. 12)

As heir general, Marion was entitled to inherit her father’s property, which signifies that Marion either had no older brothers, or that if she had they were deceased, as the law of primogeniture applied in Scotland until 1868. As such, Marion and Hugh took possession of the following:

MARION McKECHNIE, spouse of Hugh Paton, Grocer, Largs, as heir to John McKechnie, Grocer and Manufacturer there, her father, Seised, in the half of a Dwelling House with Byre and Yard at the back thereof on the north side of the Street of LARGS, and of a Barn extending to about 10 Feet in length adjoining, par. Largs; on Pr. Cl. Con. by Gen. Sir Thomas Makdougall Brisbane of Makerstoun and Brisbane, Sept. 21. 1849  P. R. 353.249.
(Source: National Archives of Scotland, Particular Register of Sasines for Ayrshire)

“Pr. Cl. Con.” Means “precept of clara constat”, basically a form of charter issued which “clearly shows” that Marion was entitled to take over her father’s feu from Sir Thomas Makdougall Brisbane (for whom Brisbane in Australia was named, he being its first governor from 1820-24).

Also the following a month later:

JOHN MORRIS, sometime Weaver and Manufacturer, now Miller, Largs, and Marion McKechnie, spouse of Hugh Paton, Grocer there, as heir to John McKechnie, Weaver there, her father, Seised, in 7 Falls of Yarding on the

(Source: National Archives of Scotland, General Register of Sasines)

This shows that Marion’s father took over a feu from Ann CLARK in 1827, in partnership with another weaver, John MORRIS. As the feu was hereditary, it had to be regranted to John and Marion by way of a new charter, upon her father’s death.

In the following year, with Hugh’s consent, Marion transferred her share of the property to John MORRIS, by way of a disposition granted in his favour in July:

JOHN MORRIS, sometime Weaver and Manufacturer, now Miller, Largs, Seised., in an Old Housestead and part of a Yard, 2 Barnsteads and House thereon, and ground immediately behind, and 7 Falls of Yarding, all on the north side of the Main Street of LARGS, (under exceptions), par. Largs, on Disp. by the said John Morris, Marion McKechnie, with consent of Hugh Paton, Grocer, Largs, her husband, and of Robert Blair, Wright there, Jul. 9. 1850  P. R. 358. 39

Just six weeks later Marion took possession of property in Townhead Close, by way of a charter of confirmation and precept of clara constat issued by Sir Thomas Makdougall Brisbane.

MARION McKECHNIE, spouse of Hugh Paton, Grocer, Largs, as heir to John McKechnie (Weaver, Largs), her father, Seised, in a Byre now converted into a Dwelling House and Weavers Shop on the west side of Townhead Close, LARGS, par. Largs; on Ch. Conf. and Pr. Cl. Con. by Sir Thomas Makdougall Brisbane of Makerstoun and Brisbane, Aug. 27. 1850 P. R. 355. 34

(Source: National Archives of Scotland, Particular Register of Sasines for Ayrshire)

In 1851, the family were recorded at ‘Morris Land’ in Largs:

1851 Census   GROS 1851 602 6 Largs p.12
Morris Land

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 35, weaver, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
Marion PATON  wife, married, age 31, born Largs, Ayrshire
John PATON  son, age 4, born Largs, Ayrshire
Dewar PATON  son, age 3 months, born Largs, Ayrshire
Catherine LINTON  servant, unmarried, age 13, house servant, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire

Son Dewar was in fact the second to the couple – the first died in 1850:

May 10: Dewar, son Hugh Paton grocer Main Street; died May 8 of inflammation in the chest (age 11 months).
(Source: www.ayrshireroots.co.uk/Towns/Largs/Largs%20OPR%203.htm#1848)

John, mentioned in the census, also died in infancy:

Dec 6 1852: John son of Hugh Paton, grocer, Main Street, scarlet fever (age 6)
(Source: www.ayrshireroots.co.uk/Towns/Largs/Largs%20OPR%203.htm#1848)

As did the second son called Dewar:

Jan 9 1854: Dewar son of Hugh Paton, grocer, Main Street, chincough (age 3)
(Source: www.ayrshireroots.co.uk/Towns/Largs/Largs%20OPR%203.htm#1848)

And a son called Hugh:

Jan 25 1854: Hugh, son of Hugh Paton, Main Street
(Source: www.ayrshireroots.co.uk/Towns/Largs/Largs%20OPR%203.htm#1848)

By 1861 Hugh had changed careers from weaver to auctioneer:

1861 Census GROS 1861 602 5 Largs p. 27
2 Waterside Street

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 44, auctioneer, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
Marion PATON  wife, married, age 41, auctioneer’s wife, born Largs, Ayrshire
Jean PATON  daughter, age 5, born Largs, Ayrshire
Mary PATON  daughter, age 2, born Largs, Ayrshire

NB: As an auctioneer, the two articles attributed to Hugh PATON, spouse of Marianne DUNLOP, may in fact relate to this Hugh, as both were working at the same time in Largs as auctioneers.

In 1871 Hugh is listed as a farmer:
1871 Census  GROS 1871 602 6 Largs p.30
Wa?? Cottage

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 54, farmer, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire

In 1881, again as an auctioneer:

Hugh PATON  head, married, age 64, auctioneer, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire
Mary PATON  wife, married, age 61, born Largs, Ayrshire

The 1891 entry was sourced from Ancestry and appears to have a transcription error:

Hugh PATON  head, widower, age 84, retired auctioneer, born Kilmaurs, Ayrshire

ii) William PATON

William was born in 1821:

OPR B 602/00 Fr 483 4 DEC 1842 Largs

William Paton

3d child & 3 son of Dewar Paton & Mary Gibbie
Spouses Holland Green Kilmaurs born 4th December 1821

Banns were proclaimed on two Sabbaths for William’s marriage to Jean WYLLIE at Largs on 11 JUN 1842 (OPR M 602/00 Fr. 616 11 JUN 1842 Largs)

It is known that William and Jean had at least one son, William PATON, born 3 OCT 1856 in Kilbirnie, Ayrshire (Source: IGI).

William died at Coljoy’s Bay, America, as recorded in the Ardrossan and Saltcoats Herald on 13 FEB 1869. (Source: www.ayrshire-roots.co.uk: Intimation database). A search for a Coljoy’s Bay yielded no results, though it is possible that the site has mistranscribed Colpoy’s Bay, which is Ontario.

iii) and iv) Mary and Agnes PATON – twins

The two twins were born in 1824:

OPR B 602/00 Fr 483 4 DEC 1842 Largs

Mary & Agnes Paton

Twin children of Dewar Paton & Mary Gibbie
Spouses Holland Green Kilmaurs born 27 June 1824

In 1881, Margaret is found in the census living alone at Mill Vennel, Kilmaurs (GROS 1881 598/00 7 Kilmaurs p.19). Similarly for 1891 (GROS 1891 598/00 1 Kilmaurs p.23), and also in 1901, where the address is noted as Mill Vennel or Fenwick Road, and by which time she is a retired dressmaker (GROS 1901 598/00 1 Kilmaurs p.22).

Margaret died on 6 AUG 1908, as shown in the abstract for her will:

vi) Elizabeth PATON

Elizabeth was born in 1829:

8) Hugh PATON

Allan’s four times great grandparents were Hugh PATON and Mary BROWN, who married in 1768. The banns were called in both of their respective parishes:

Hugh’s parish:

Novr 21

Hugh Paton in the parish of Longdreghorn and Mary Brown of this parish were married here Novr 21st 1768 by Mr. Oliphant

Family tradition seems to be popularly accepted that Hugh was the son of John PATON and Marion BORLAND, but despite an extensive search, no birth entry could be found for Hugh in Dreghorn or elsewhere in surrounding parishes, nor a death entry in the monumental inscriptions.

In fact, very little on Hugh was found at all. This would seem to be because Hugh was an adherent of the dissenting Presbyterian church in Kilmaurs, the registers for which unfortunately no longer exist.

The following story concerning Mary BROWN is of interest, as found on the Paton family History Forum:

The Wedding Dress

For the wedding of William Boyd, later 4th Earl of Kilmarnock, in 1724 a bolt of silk, woven from silk produced from silkworms raised on the mulberry trees on the estate, was used to make the dresses of the bride and her bridesmaids. At least one of the bridesmaids was a cousin, perhaps not a full cousin of the bridegroom. There were a number of Boyds in Fenwick and Kilmarnock, including Robert the Glover, who were part of the family but whose relationship is not known. The bridesmaid’s dress was handed down from mother to daughter until the female descent became unclear and it was given to the Helensburgh Museum.

One of the bridesmaids, Margaret Boyd, daughter of Thomas Boyd, Farmer in Holms, married John Brown (s. of James Brown, Townhead of Fenwick) 22 July 1743 and had issue;
1. Mary Brown
Mary Brown b. 16 Feb 1746, inherited the dress, m. 21 Nov. 1768 Hugh Paton (b. 1728 great-grandson of Captain John Paton of Meadowhead) and had issue

The dress allegedly has made its way down the female line and now resides at a museum in Helensburgh.

Children of Hugh PATON and Mary BROWN:

In addition to Dewar PATON, the following children are believed to have been born to Hugh and Mary:

i) Margaret PATON

The eldest child was Margaret. Her birth entry was the only one to be recorded in an established Church of Scotland parochial register:

OPR B 598/00 Fr 89 27 AUG 1769 Kilmaurs

Hugh Paton and Mary Brown in Town
Of Kilmaurs had a lawful Daughter born 21st August 1769 and baptized by the 27th of the same month by the name of Marg.

Margaret married James CRAIG on 12 JUN 1792 (Source: IGI), and later died in 1850. Her death was corroborated from her monumental inscription in Fenwick Kirkyard:

121.
James Craig, late fm Raithburn, d. 17.3.1806 a 82y, da Jean C d 19.5.1774 a 1 y, da Barbara C d 10.1.1789 a 23y, da Agnes C d 11.4.1790 a 22y, w. Ann Pollock d 25.11. 1808 a in 76y, James C late fm Raithburn, d. 10.8.1850 a 88y, w. Margaret Paton d. 30. 7.1850 a 82y, chn Mary C d 12.12.1856 a 59y, James C d 19.12.1856 a 61y
The following children were also named in the charts supplied by Allan. None of the births could be confirmed from Church of Scotland records. Although they are recorded as children of Hugh and Mary in the International Genealogical Index (IGI), all but one such entries come from patron submissions which are not verified before publication by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

It was therefore possible that the family were members of the Associate Session Church in Kilmaurs, the records of which are held at the National Archives of Scotland as follows:

CH3/193/2 Session mins containing B 1752-55; 1780-88
CH3/193/8 B 1780-83 (microfilm at NAS)
CH3/193/21 B 1787
Session minutes exist from 1740 at CH3/193/1.

Unfortunately, no information on this generation could be found within the records.

ii) Helen PATON

There was no information supplied on Helen in the original chart, just a name.

iii) Mary PATON

Mary is stated to have been born in 20 FEB 1772. This is unconfirmed. The IGI has this as a patron submission by Stephen ORR.

iv) John PATON

John was stated to be born in about 1775 and to have died in 1829. This is unconfirmed.

v) James Wright PATON

James is stated to have been born in 1776. In the tree supplied by Allan, he was stated to have been married to Helen WYLIE – however, the 1841 and 1851 censuses show that the James Paton that she was married to was born in about 1791, and is not recorded as James Wright PATON, just James PATON. It therefore seems that there may have been two brothers called James, implying James Wright PATON died young.

vi) Thomas PATON

Thomas was stated to be born in about 1778. This remains unconfirmed.

Thomas was recorded in the 1841 census.

1841 Census GROS 1841 598/00 6 Kilmaurs p.12

James PATON 16, yes to born in county
Robert PATON 12, yes to born in county
Janet PATON 6, yes to born in county
Mary PATON 3, yes to born in county

Thomas was said to have married Jean ALLISON. This marriage took place 25 FEB 1810 at Middle Church, Paisley (IGI). The couple’s first son was called Hugh PATON, born 6 SEP1810 in Paisley, which could partially corroborate Thomas as being the son of Hugh PATON (the first son is named after the father’s father in the Scottish naming pattern).

vii) Jane PATON

Jane was stated to have been born in 1779 and to have married James YOUNG. This is unconfirmed.

The marriage of Jean PATON and James YOUNG took place in Fenwick on 29 JUN 1792. The first daughter to the couple was Mary YOUNG, born 22 SEP 1793 at Fenwick, again, partially corroborating the perceived relationship (the first daughter named after the mother’s mother). The fourth son was called Hugh, born 1807 in Riccarton (possibly the grandfathers were named after first, before the fathers?)

viii) Elizabeth PATON

Elizabeth was stated to have been born in 1783 and to have died in 1857. She was said to have married John ORR.
Elizabeth’s death should have been noted in 1857, but could not be found. The IGI in fact recorded her death in Fenwick on 7 JAN 1852, and not 1857. This remains unconfirmed, coming as it does from a patron submission from Stephen ORR in London.

ix) Agnes PATON

Agnes was confirmed as Hugh’s and Mary’s daughter from her death record in 1857.

x) James PATON

This James was not shown on the tree supplied to Allan.

James was born sometime between 1785 and 1791 approximately, as noted in the 1841, 1851 and 1861 censuses.

James was also in Sorbie in the 1861 census, at 1 High Street, noted as aged 76, therefore born about 1785. At this point he was a spirit dealer, and noted as having been born in Fenwick.

James died in 1865 aged 82 – the Scotland’s People index confirms his mother’s maiden name as BROWN (GROS D 1865 897/00 006 Sorbie).

Part Two – Family Tradition

Despite an extensive search, the evidence to suggest that Hugh PATON of Dreghorn was the son of John PATON and Mary STEVENSON, and a great grandson of Captain John Paton, has yet to be found. Family tradition, however, has identified this on several trees of those descended from Hugh, not just those trees in Allan’s possession, but on the Paton Family History Forum and elsewhere. How much this is based on duplication of other’s efforts, or on alternative family traditions, is unclear.

Whether this link derives from a genuine record somewhere, perhaps a family bible or land record not in the public domain, or from an assumption from an earlier generation’s research that has been propagated to the modern day, I have been unable to determine. Certainly the common perception that the Patons of Largs descend from Captain John PATON, the Covenanter, is a tradition that has been in the family from at least 1912 (if we can take it as read that the John PATON entry written in the Nebraska Compendium was actually referring to intolerant Episcopalians rather than intolerant Roman Catholics!). It has certainly been in Allan’s family history for as long as he can remember.

Although the Paton Family History Forum shows the link between Hugh and John as confirmed, I have been unable to determine the source evidence for this. Interestingly, the forum itself queries the traditional tale just one generation before that of John PATON, spouse of Mary STEVENSON, as the son of John PATON and Marion BORDLAND. There are some claims that the family can be traced back a few generations further, to a Matthew PATON, and one claim that it can even be traced as far back as Robert III. However, as a professional genealogist I have to say that until the link from Hugh PATON to Captain John is confirmed beyond a shadow of a doubt, this has to be treated as the brick wall. That is not to say the story is not correct – it is just unconfirmed.

There were many Paton families in Scotland, and many variants of the name as recorded in OPR registers. From the 1912 book, “Surnames of the United Kingdom”, two possible origins to the name are posited:

PATON 1. the French Paton, an accus. and dim. form of the O. Teut. Pato.
2. Paton is so common a surname in Scotland that it must have another source besides the French name - prob. the dim. of Patrick (q.v.), with the Fr. dim. suff. -on.\]

In other words, “son of Patrick” is the most likely derivation. In the 15th Century the name Paton began to gain usage as a surname in Scotland, particularly in Ayrshire and Perthshire, with George Black noting in his “The Surnames of Scotland Book” that “Paton was not uncommon in the western counties, where in pre-Reformation times Patrick was one of the most popular names”, and that in Ayrshire, the name “is pronounced Pauton”. There are many variants to the name, including Patton, Padon, Pattoune and Pattone, and the name is a variant of both ‘Patterson’, and the Gaelic ‘MacFadden’, from ‘Mac Phaidon’, or ‘son of Paton’.

However, despite being unconfirmed, it is worth exploring what can be established from the traditional story going further back…
9) John PATON

Allan’s five times great grandparents are traditionally believed to be John PATON and Mary STEVENSON.

John and Mary married in Kilmarnock in 1725:

OPR 597/00 26 MAY 1725 Fr 1265 Kilmarnock

John Paton in Bankhouse and Mary Stevenson daughter to Thomas Stevenson in Unthank, both their 1st marriage, were booked on Fryday May 7th 1725 and consigned eight merks of penalty and after orderly proclamation three several Sabbaths were married in ther Kirk of Kilmk on Wednesday May 28th 1725 by Mr Pasiley and got up their penalty

John is said to be the son of John PATON and Marion BORDLAND, and if so, the following is his birth entry:

OPR 597/00 fr 139 24 AUG 1701

Witnesses Mr John Henderson session clerk and James Chalmers […] booked ye.
10) John PATON

Allan’s six times great grandparents are traditionally believed to be John PATON and Marion BORDLAND.

The evidence for their marriage comes from Kilmarnock in 1696:

In addition to having a son called John, the couple had at least two more children recorded in the Kilmarnock register:

11) Captain John PATON

Allan’s seven times great grandfather is traditionally believed to be Captain John PATON. The following material; has been deposited on the Paton Family History Forum, sourced from a book entitled “Cloud of Witness”.

JOHN PATON was born in the parish of Fenwick, at Meadowhead, a farmhouse, about a mile and-a-half to the east of the small village of Waterside. The present farmhouse of Meadowhead has been built within the century, with the exception of its west end, which is said to be part of that in which Paton lived. Behind the house is a barn, of some size, the gables of which are of dried mud, cased with stones, and overcast with a coating of lime. Within these gables, the tradition is, that Richard Cameron, sometime early in 1681, baptized twenty-two children.

In his younger days, Paton followed the usual outdoor occupation of the inhabitants of his native parish; but when he reached manhood, he left farming for a soldier’s life. John Howie says, of the way and manner in which he went first to a military life, that there are various accounts, - one is, that he served under Gustavus Adolphus; and the other, that he was at the battle of Marston Moor. But both accounts are reconcilable with each other, for the battle of Lutzen, fatal to the Swedish king, yet triumphant to the Protestant cause he sought to advance, was fought November 6th, 1632, while Marston Moor was not till July 2, 1644. Scotland seems, in the early part of the seventeenth century, to have been much in the condition of Ireland in later times, - it experienced the distress arising from a superabundant population. England, although by the accession of James brought under the same crown, was not a very friendly country, and so Scotsmen went in large numbers to the Continent. The General Assembly, Sept. 1, 1647, sent a pastoral letter "unto the Scots merchants, and others our country people, scattered in Poland, Swedland, Denmark, and Hungary," and it refers to their numbers cc as many thousands of our countrymen, who are scattered abroad." These merchants were mostly what in modern phrase would be called packmen, and traveled over the Continent, and, in an age when towns were few, and when in towns shops were far from being regularly open, gave the inhabitants an opportunity of buying articles of luxury or domestic use. With many, however, the occupation of a soldier was more popular than that of a travelling merchant. Hence Scotsmen were found in all the armies of Europe. Sometimes they discovered themselves fighting against each other, and when a detachment would be scaling a breach, it is said, it was not unusual to hear some of the defenders address them in their own tongue, "come on, gentlemen! this is not like gallanting it at the Cross of Edinburgh."
When Gustavus Adolphus, as the champion of Protestantism, declared war in 1630 against Austria, he had quite an army of Scotsmen under him. His Scotch brigade was so large, that its superior officers amounted to 34 colonels, and 50 lieutenant-colonels. One of the most curious and most interesting folios of that age, is Colonel Robert Munro's expedition with the worthy Scots regiment, called Mackay's Regiment, discharged in several duties and observations of service, first, under the magnanimous King of Denmark, during his wars against the empire, afterwards under the invincible King of Sweden, during his majesty's lifetime, etc. At Lutzen, the reserve of Gustavus was commanded by a Scotsman named Henderson, and the Scotch regiments, by their adoption of platoon firing, are said to have contributed largely to achieve the victory that did so much for the liberties of Protestant Europe.

Whether Paton was at Lutzen we are not told, but "it was for some heroic achievement," says John Howie, "at the taking of a certain city, probably by Gustavus Adolphus, that he was advanced to a captain's post." What age he was when he went abroad is not recorded, further than that, "when he returned home, he was so far changed, that his parents scarcely knew him," which may be taken to signify that he went away a lad of eighteen or nineteen, and came back a bearded and bronzed soldier, of six or eight and twenty.

It is not said when Captain Paton returned from Germany, but he joined the army which the Scots sent to the aid of the English Parliamentary forces, and was present at the battle of Marston Moor, July 1644, when the combined Scots and Parliamentary troops gained the victory, which both gave a fatal blow to the royal cause, and laid the foundation of Oliver Cromwell's future greatness. After Marston Moor, he must soon have returned home, for he was called out, with the militia of his native parish, to resist the raid made by Montrose in favor of the king, and was present at the battle of Kilsyth, August 15, 1645. Here the daring purpose and quick execution of Montrose carried the day, and the army of the Covenanters was totally defeated. Wishart, Montrose's chaplain, a divine evidently of the school of Baron Munchausen, affirms that the Covenanters lost from 4000 to 5000, while the loss of his master was no more than six men. But the statement carries with it its own refutation, for it is impossible that four or five thousand of the vanquished can have been slain, with a loss of six only to the victor. In the rout that followed the defeat, Captain Paton with difficulty escaped. John Howie tells the following story of what he and two associates did in the retreat:

"The Captain, as soon as he got free of the bog, into which the Covenanters had been driven, with sword in hand, made the best of his way through the enemy, till he got safe to the two Colonels, Hacker and Strahan, who all three rode off together, but had not gone far till they were encountered by about fifteen of the enemy, all of whom they killed except two who escaped. When they had gone a little further, they were again attacked by about thirteen more, and of these they killed ten, so that only three of them could make their escape. But, upon the approach of about eleven Highlanders more, one of the colonels said, in a familiar dialect, 'Johnny, if thou dost not somewhat now, we are all dead men.' To whom the captain answered, 'Fear not, for we will do what we can before we either yield or flee before them.' They killed nine of them, and put the rest to flight."
This is plainly a soldier's story, much the better of the excitement that three hand-to-hand conflicts might well cause. But it is much more likely to be true than Wishart's fiction; especially if we remember what a weapon a sword in the hands of a soldier, skilled to use it, becomes, when his antagonists are of the character of Montrose's army, accustomed more to a whoop, a halloo, and a dash, than to fight in a regular manner. Howie tells a similar story of his doings, when some soldiers of the Duke of Hamilton's army, under the command of Middleton, attacked a considerable party of the Covenantors at Mauchline, where they had been celebrating the communion.
Paton and his friends from Fenwick, who, at his advice, had taken arms with them, made a spirited resistance. The captain himself killed eighteen with his own hand. In the unhappy dispute, which ended in the Covenantors breaking up into two parties, Captain Paton took the side of the Protestors. He was present at the battle of Worcester, September 3, 1651, where he fought for King Charles II with his usual ardor; but the genius of Cromwell carried the day, and soon ended the war. Paton returned home to Scotland, and resumed the pursuits of his youth, by taking the farm of Meadowhead, and soon after married Janet Lindsay, but she died in a few months.
At Meadowhead, Paton continued to reside for the rest of his days. He sat under the ministry of William Guthrie, the well-known author of the "Christian's Great Interest," and was chosen to be one of his elders. When, in 1666, the Covenantors of Galloway, fired by the insolent oppressions of Sir James Turner, took up arms in self-defense, and invited their friends to join them, Captain Paton could not resist the invitation. He was called to command "a party of horse from London, Fenwick, and other places." In the ill-judged march to the neighborhood of Edinburgh, he had the charge of the rear-guard. He was at Pentland, and was among the last to quit the field, when the overwhelming numbers of the royal forces made defense no longer possible.
In his retreat he was overtaken by Dalziel himself, who knew him, and thought to have taken him prisoner. Each fired at the other; Paton's ball struck Dalziel, but without effect, for according to the practice of superior officers in that age, he wore chain armor; and, when Paton proceeded to load the other pistol with silver, said to be more effective than lead in piercing steel, and which he had with him for an emergency, Dalziel retreated behind his attendant, who was slain. Paton and two other friends from Fenwick on horseback, were soon surrounded by Dalziel's soldiery, but they cut their way through, when there were almost no others fighting on their own side save themselves, and after they had kept their position for nearly an hour.
How much was secured by the continued resistance of such as Paton, and by the dispositions of the commanding officer, Lieutenant-Colonel James Wallace, Mr.
Dodds has been able to show from researches in the State Paper Office in his valuable volume, "The Fifty Years Struggle of the Scottish Covenantors." The great body of the Covenantors, very different from what happened in 1679 at Bothwell Bridge, escaped under the covert of night among the hills in their rear.

General Dalziel did not suffer Captain Paton to escape without at least another attempt to capture him. He sent three of his troopers in pursuit, after he had given them a description so as to recognize him. They overtook him, when he was about to leap a ditch, and out of which three terrified Galloway friends had just drawn their horses. The captain, after encouraging his friends, cleared the ditch, and faced about, sword in hand, to receive his pursuers. The head of the first he cut in two with a single stroke of his sword. The trooper's horse, deprived of its rider, and stunned by the blow, fell into the ditch or hag, and in its fall, drew in the two others along with it, where Paton left them, with the message - "My compliments to your master, and tell him I shall not be with him tonight." Paton got safely back to Meadowhead; but he had become a marked man, and henceforward he had many a time to betake himself for safety to the wild moors in his neighborhood. The winter following Pentland, he and twenty more had a narrow escape at Lochgoin, where they had gathered for prayer and pious conversation.

He was not with the brave company at Drumclog, but he soon after joined them with a number of horsemen from Fenwick and Galston, and was present at the fatal defeat at Bothwell Bridge. It is not said what part he took in the battle, but his presence there led to his being proclaimed a rebel, and to a sum being set upon his head. Not long after Bothwell Bridge, he had another narrow escape at Lochgoin, the circumstances of which John Howie details at length. Although the soldiers surprised him in the house, he managed to escape. Two friends ran with him, and two others less quickly behind him, and now and then fired upon the enemy. One of the shots took effect, and wounded a sergeant in the thigh. This delayed the pursuit, and Paton and his four friends separated - they going together to attract the soldiers, and he by himself. He soon got hold of a horse in the moor, but he had scarcely mounted, when he came upon a party of dragoons, for Newmilns. However, as he was shoeless, the horse saddleless, and riding slowly, he escaped unobserved.

This second series of escapes was soon followed by a third. One of his children died. The time when it was to be buried came to the knowledge of the hireling of government, who drew the stipend of the parish, and he sent word to the soldiers stationed at Kilmarnock to come and seize him in the churchyard. Paton followed the corpse to the burial, but, when near the churchyard, he was persuaded by some friends to turn back, and thus he escaped.

But Captain Paton was now an old man, and the vicissitudes of a soldier's life, the efforts he had made to advance the good cause, as well as the privations he had suffered through persecution, had added to his age. Hence, when his enemies at last came upon him, he was easily taken. In the beginning of August 1683, he was in the house of Robert Howie, in Floack, in the parish of Mearns, a house alongside of which now runs the new road from Kilmarnock to Glasgow, when a party of five soldiers claimed him as their prisoner. Contrary to his usual practice, he had no arms, but the inmates of the house offered him assistance - had it been ten years earlier, he had been able for the soldiers single-handed - but he declined their aid. He feared that it would bring them into trouble, and he was now well stricken in years, and worn out with fleeing from place to place; and moreover, he added, he was not afraid to die, for of his interest in Christ he was sure.

The soldiers, therefore, made an easy capture. They took him to Kilmarnock, under the supposition that he was some aged minister, for the inmates of Floack had not yet disclosed his name; but on the way, at a place still shown, called Moor Yett, a farmer, standing at his door, cried out - "Dear me, Captain Paton, are you there!" and thus the soldiers first learned the value of the prize they had taken. From Kilmarnock he was conveyed to Ayr, and from Ayr to Glasgow, and thence to Edinburgh. Here, John Howie relates, General Dalziel met him, when compassion for his old companion in arms got the better of him - they had fought side by side at Worcester - and he took him in his arms, and said - "John, I am both glad and sorry to see you. If I had met you on the way before you came hither, I should have set you at liberty, but now it is..."
too late. But be not afraid, I will write to his majesty for your life." His trial took place, April 16th. He was condemned on his own confession that he was at Bothwell, and was sentenced to be hanged at the Grassmarket, on Wednesday the 23d. He was prevailed on, as he laments in his last speech, to petition the Council, and they delayed his execution till the 30th. On the 30th, the Council records further reprieve him:

"John Paton, in Meadowhead, sentenced to die for rebellion, and thereafter remaining in mosses and moors, to the high contempt of authority, for which he hath given all satisfaction that law requires, reprieved till Friday come sen'night, and to have a room by himself, that he may prepare more conveniently for death." Wodrow regards this entry so favorable to him, that he is persuaded the bishops had not been present when it was made, and that some further favor had been designed. Howie says that Dalziel was as good as his word, that he procured a reprieve from the king, but that it came first into the hands of Bishop Paterson, the same who annoyed Marion Harvie in her last hours, who kept it up till it was of no avail.

He was executed on the Friday, May 9, 1684. "He died," says Wodrow, "most cheerfully." When on the scaffold, he handed down his Bible to his wife, Janet Millar, from Eaglesham, whom he married some years after the death of his first. He left her a widow, with six children. His oldest daughter was about fifteen.

His testimony is a tersely expressed, soldier-like statement, and its evangelical savor tells how much he had profited under the preaching of his beloved minister, William Guthrie. Its closing paragraph is as remarkable for its beauty of expression as for its undoubting faith in a Covenantkeeping God.

His Bible is at Lochgoin. It is a 24mo, of date 1653. The metrical Psalms at the close are of a much later year, but they were put in by the author of the "Scots Worthies," that he might use the book at Church. Captain Paton's autograph is on the blank side of the title page. The inscription on the inside of one of the boards tells its history. It is "Captain John Paton's bible, which he gave to his wife from off the scaffold, when he was executed for the cause of Jesus Christ, at Edinburgh, on the 8th of May 1684. James Howie received it from the captain's son's daughter's husband, and gave it to John Howie, his nephew."

At Lochgoin a sword 27 inches in length is shown as his, but it is light and small, and much rusted, this granddaughter, Annabella Paton, married Gavin Rowatt, a much esteemed elder in connection with the Reformed Presbytery during the latter half of last century. Gavin's eldest son was the Reverend Thomas Rowatt, a faithful and diligent minister, of the Gospel, in Penpont, from 1796 to 1832. In the possession of the minister's nephew, Thomas Rowatt, Esq. of Bonnanhill, Strathaven, is a sword that has been handed down in the family from generation to generation as the Captain's. It is an Andrea Ferrara of forty inches in length, and in excellent preservation. Its size and weight, when in the hands of a soldier like Captain Paton, would make it a formidable weapon. John Howie has given a life of him in the "Scots Worthies." It is, perhaps, the best in the volume. It contains more traditionary matter than in most of the others. Its close, though somewhat sesquipedalian in its language, is a good specimen of Howie's manner. It is - "Thus another gallant soldier of Jesus Christ came to his end, the actions of whose life, and demeanor at death, do fully indicate that he was of no rugged disposition, as has been asserted of these our late sufferers, but rather of a meek, judicious, and Christian conversation, tempered with true zeal and faithfulness for the cause and interest of Zion's King and Lord. He was of a middle stature as accounts bear, strong and robust, somewhat fair of complexion, with large eye-brows. But what enhanced him more, was courage and magnanimity of mind, which accompanied him upon every emergent occasion; and though his extraction was but mean, it might be truly said of him, that he lived a hero and died a martyr."

Captain Paton was buried in the corner of Greyfriars' churchyard, Edinburgh, in the sacred spot where the dust of so many martyrs lies. In Fenwick churchyard his fellow-parishioners, soon after the Revolution, erected a monument to his memory. This monument fell down some years ago, but a new one has been erected in its place, and an inscription put on it, written in somewhat fulsome terms, very different from the simple yet all the more effective language characteristic of the monuments put up to the memory of the martyrs last century. - ED.]

THE LAST TESTIMONY OF CAPTAIN JOHN PATON,

Who lived in the parish of Fenwick, and suffered at the Grassmarket of Edinburgh, May 9th, 1684.

"DEAR FRIENDS AND SPECTATORS, - You are come here to look upon me a dying man, and you need not expect that I shall say much, for I was never a great orator nor eloquent of tongue, though I may say as much to the commendation of God in Christ Jesus as ever a poor sinner had to say. I have been a great sinner as ever lived; strong corruptions, strong lusts, strong passions, a strong body of death have prevailed against me; yea, I have been chief of sinners. I may say, on every back look of my way (though the world cannot charge me with any gross transgression this day, for which I bless the Lord), Oh! what omissions and commissions, what formality and hypocrisy, that even my duties have been my grief and fear, lest Thou, a holy God, had made them my dittays [i.e., indictments], and mayest do. My misimproved time may be heavy upon my head, and cause of desertion, and especially my supplicating the council, who have, I think, laid their snares the closer to take away my life, though contrary to their own professed law. I desire to mourn for my giving ear to the counsel of flesh and blood, when I should have been consulting Heaven, and to reflect upon myself, though it lays my blood the closer to their door; and I think the blood of my wife and bairns; I think their supreme magistrate is not ignorant of many of their actings, but these prelates will not be found free when our God makes an inquisition for blood.

"And now, I am come here, desired of some indeed, who thirst for my life, though by others not desired. I bless the Lord, I am not come here as a thief or murderer, and I am free of the blood of all men, but hate blood shed directly or indirectly. And now I am a poor sinner, and could never merit anything but wrath, and have no righteousness of my own; all is Jesus Christ's, and His alone; and I have laid claim to His righteousness and His sufferings by faith in Jesus Christ; through imputation they are mine; for I have accepted of His offer on His own terms, and sworn away myself to Him, to be at His disposal, both privately and publicly, many times; and, now, I have put it upon Him to ratify in heaven all that I have essayed to do on earth, and to do away all my imperfections and failings, and to stay my heart on Him. And I seek mercy for all my sins, and believe to get all my challenges and sins sunk in the blood and sufferings of Jesus and His righteousness, and that He shall see of the travail of His soul on me, and the Father's pleasure shall prosper in His hand.

"I bless the Lord that ever He led me out to behold any part of His power in the Gospel, in kirk or fields, or any of His workings for His people in their straits. The Lord is with His people while they be with Him; we may set to our seal to this; and while they be united; and oh! for a day of His power in cementing of this distempered age. It is sad to see His people falling out by the way, and of such a fiery spirit, that look to be at one lodging at night, especially these who profess to keep by our glorious Work of Reformation and Solemn Engagements to God, and to hold off the sins of these times. Oh! hold off extremities on both hands, and follow the example of our blessed Lord, and the cloud of witnesses in the eleventh of the Hebrews. And let your way be the good old path, the Word of God and best times of the Church, for if it be not according to His Word, it is because there is no truth in it.

"Now, as to my interrogations:

"I was not clear to deny Pentland or Bothwell. They asked me how long I was at them?
I said eight days, and the assize had no more to sentence upon, for the Advocate said he would not pursue for Pentland, by reason of an indemnity before the Privy Council.
"The Council asked me, If I acknowledged authority? I said, All authority according to the Word of God.

"They charged me with many things, as if I had been a rebel since the year 1640, and at Montrose's taking at Mauchline Moor. "Lord! forgive them, they know not what they do. "I adhere to the sweet Scriptures of truth of the Old and New Testaments, and preached Gospel by a faithful sent ministry, whereby He many times communicated Himself to the souls of His people, and to me in particular, both in the kirks, and since on the fields, and in the private meetings of His people for prayer and supplication to Him.

"I adhere to our Solemn Covenants, National and Solemn League, Acknowledgment of Sins and Engagement to Duties, which became national.

"I adhere to our Confession of Faith, Larger and Shorter Catechisms, Causes of Wrath, and to all the testimonies given by His people formerly, and of late, either on fields or scaffolds, these years bygone, in so far as they are agreeable to His Word, and the practice of our worthy Reformers, and holy, pure zeal, according to His rule.

"I adhere to all our glorious work of Reformation. "Now, I leave my testimony, as a dying man, against the horrid usurpation of our Lord's prerogative and crown-right; I mean that Supremacy, established by law in these lands, which is a manifest usurpation of His crown, for He is given by the Father to be head to His Church; 'And He is the head of the body, the Church; who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead, that in all things He might have the pre-eminence:
'For it pleased the Father, that in Him should all fullness dwell' (Colossians 1:18, 19); and against all Popery, Prelacy, and Erastianism, and all that depend on that hierarchy, which is a yoke that neither we nor our fathers were able to bear, which the poor remnant is groaning under this day, by that horrid cruelty rending their consciences by tests and bonds; taking away their substance and livelihoods by fines and illegal exactions, plunderings and quarterings, and compelling them to sin, by hearing, joining, and complying with these malicious curates.

'Woe unto you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men; for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in' (Matthew 23:13). "I leave my testimony against the Indulgence, first and last, for I ever looked on it as a snare, and so I never looked upon them as a part of the hopeful remnant of our Church; and now it is sad to see how some of them have joined by their deeds in the persecution of the poor remnant, and almost all in tongue persecution.

"Now, I would speak a short word to two or three sorts of folks; but I think, if one would rise from the dead, he would not be heard by this generation, who are mad upon idols and this world. "First, These who have joined deliberately with the persecutors, in all their robberies and haling innocent souls to prison, death, and banishment. The Lord will not hold them guiltless. They may read what the Spirit of God hath recorded of them in Jude 11th verse and downward, and Obadiah's prophecy.

"A second sort are these who seem to be more sober and knowing; yet, through timorousness and fear, have joined with them in all their corrupt courses for ease, and their own things. Do not think that these fig-leaves will cover you in the cool of the day. It is a hazard to be mingled with the heathen, lest we learn of them their way. Oh! sirs, be zealous and repent. Seek repentance from Christ;

"He purchased it with His blood; and do your first works if ever there was any saving work on your souls, for He will come quickly; 'and who may abide the day of His coming.' Oh! sirs, the noble grace of repentance grows not in every field; many could not get it, though they sought it carefully with tears. Oh! work while it is today; the night draweth on, and it may be very dark. "The third sort are these who have been most tender; and oh! who of us can say, that we have, out of love to His glory, singly followed Him. Upon examination, we fear we find it not so, but that we have come far short. We fear we find not Him such as we would, nor He us such as He would. Oh! we may say, 'From the crown of the head to the sole of the foot there is no place clean.' None can cast a stone at another: we are all wounds, bruises, and defilements. We must put His work upon Him who is the fountain to wash foul souls, who breaks not the bruised reed, nor quenches the smoking flax. Give Him much ado, for we have much ado for Him. Oh! that there were no rest in our bones because of our sin. It is the Father's pleasure, that He should see His seed, and the pleasure of the Lord prosper in His hand. Oh! that He would make every one of us understand our errors, and seek after the good old path, followed in the most pure times of our Church, and get in to our Lord Jesus Christ, by faith in His righteousness, by imputation and virtue of His sufferings for sinners, and keep by Him. There is no safety but at His back; and I beseech you, improve time; it is precious when right improven; for ye know not when the Master calleth, at midnight, or the cock crowing. Dear friends, the work of the day is great, and calls for more nor [i.e., than] ordinary. Oh! be oft at the throne, and give Him no rest. Make sure your sours interest. Seek pardon freely, and then He will come with peace. Seek all the graces of His Spirit, the grace of love, the grace of holy fear and humility. Oh! but there is much need of this and the promised Spirit.

"Now, I desire to salute you, dear friends in the Lord Jesus Christ, both prisoned, banished, widow and fatherless, or wandering and cast out for Christ's sake and the Gospel's; even the blessing of Christ's sufferings be with you all, strengthen, establish, support, and settle you; and the blessing of Him who was in the bush, which, while it burned, was not consumed, and my poor blessing, be with you all.

"Now, as to my persecutors, I forgive all of them - instigators, reproachers, soldiers, privy council, justiciaries, apprehenders, in what they have done to me; but what they have done in despite against the image of God's name in me, who am a poor thing without that, it is not mine to forgive them; but I wish they would seek forgiveness of Him who hath it to give; and would do no more wickedness.

"Now, I leave my poor sympathizing wife and six small children upon the Almighty Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, who hath promised to be a father to the fatherless, and a husband to the widow; the widow and orphans' stay. Be Thou all in all unto them, O Lord. Now, the blessing of God, and my poor blessing, be with them. And my suit to Thee is, that Thou wouldest give them Thy salvation.

"And now, farewell wife and children. Farewell all friends and relations. Farewell all worldly enjoyments. Farewell sweet Scriptures, preaching, praying, reading, singing, and all duties. And welcome Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. I desire to commit my soul to Thee in well-doing. Lord receive my spirit.

"Sic subscribitur,

"JOHN PATON."
Before Captain John…

From the Scottish Historical Review of 1905, the following article, reprinted on the Paton Family History Forum, shows the links between Captain John Paton and Matthew Paton.

CAPTAIN JOHN PATON OF MEADOWHEAD. This Covenant-soldier has not been happy in his biographer in The Dictionary of National Biography. His Christian name has been changed into ‘James’ and his farm into ‘Meadowbank.’ A few lines are considered sufficient for a soldier who fought for Protestantism in Germany under Gustavus Adolphus, for Presbyterianism with Cromwell at Marston Moor, for his king at Worcester, for the Covenant at Bothwell Brig, and died when about eighty years old on the scaffold, boldly adhering to his principles. But space is found for an extract from the Historical Notices of Laud of Fountainhall, an active persecutor of the Covenanters. In vol. ii., page 559, Laud notes: 9th May, 1684. Captain Paton is execute by hanging at the Grassmarket. He was willing to have taken the Test, but a quorum of the Privy Council could not be then had to reprove him.

Lauder’s book was not published till 1822; it confirms to some extent the assertion at the time that Paton might have been saved from the gallows. The Covenanting party said the Bishop of Edinburgh deliberately held back a reprieve obtained from the King by General Dalziel with whom Paton fought at Worcester. He might have been saved, according to Laud, had the Privy Council taken the trouble to meet. Laud may be trusted to tell the truth about his friends of the Council, but no one who has read the Captain’s testimony on the scaffold will believe this story about the Test.

A recent search among local records has brought to light a few items about Captain Paton and his relatives.

First as regards his maternal grand-parents. In the register of the Court of Session, in a case of Lawburrows, complaint is made in 1632 that Sir William Muir of Rowallan had infringed his bond of caution by assaulting Thomas, son of Janet Muir, widow of Matthew Paton, in Warnockland. The complaint is made not only in her own name, but in that of Janet (sic) Paton, her daughter and her spouse John Paton, in Meadowhead. And also in the name of John, Marion, Agnes, Thomas, Robert, and Alexander, barns of the said Janet Muir. This John Paton in Meadowhead is the Captain’s father, who it thus appears married a Paton from Warnockland, a farm on the Rowallan estate, about four miles away. Sir William is the well-known historian of his own family, who describes himself as ‘pious and learned!’ The assault may have been his pious way of collecting rents!
Concerning the Captain's first marriage a register found in Lochgoil contains: '1656, June 25, John Paton in Meadowhead and Janet Lindsay Paton in Airthnoch were married,' by Mr. Guthrie. This farm of Airthnoch adjoins Meadowhead, and in Scots Worthies Howie says his children continued tenants of both farms till the day of his death.

'1659, May 24. A daughter of John Paton in Airthnoch was buried unbaptised.'

His second marriage is not registered, but the Fenwick register records: '1679, January 3. David, son of John Paton and Janet Miller in Meadowhead was baptised.'

No other issue of this marriage is found in the registers, but Howie reports that by this second wife he had six children, the eldest, a daughter, being about fourteen in 1684. There are families living who trace their descent from a Janet who married Thomas Taylor in Craigendunten (an adjoining farm) and from a Mary who died in Rawsmuir, Grougar, and was buried 23rd October, 1755, aged seventy-eight—making her birth-year 1677. The Kilmarnock register gives her marriage 5th January, 1705, to Andrew Brown, servitor to James Gemmell in Blackwood, Grougar (the first marriage of both).

At least one of these children was a son, as Howie in his Memoirs (published 1796), page 34, says: 'I arose and took my Bible (which was that which Captain John Paton gave to his wife off the scaffold, which I had lately got in a compliment from my wife's mother, my wife's father having got it from the said Captain's son's daughter's husband after her death).' This Bible is still at Lochgoil.

Ancestry.co.uk - Fullerton, Nance, Nebraska; Roll: T623 935; Page: 10A, Resident at 4th Street, Fullerton, Nance, Nebraska, incorrectly lists his birth date as November 1844, instead of November 1842. He was noted as a grain dealer, and his wife of two years, Ella E. PATON, was also noted. She was aged 27, born April 1873, and from Illinois, though her parents were both from New York state. This was in fact John’s second wife, as also listed was a 10 year old daughter, Anne PATON, born SEP 1889. John was noted as having been in the States for 19 years, and having been naturalised as an American citizen.

327. Grant Paton, 4 DEC 2006, Paton family History Forum at MyFamily.com, Australian cousins might be interested to know that Hugh Paton born Largs 5/10/1844 and Marianne Dunlop born Kilmours 12/10/1845 emigrated to NSW. They embarked on the P & O ship SS BELTANA in April or May 1913 (possibly from London) along with their son, the Rev. Hugh Paton. They landed at Brisbane in June 1913. There is a family photograph (undated) showing Hugh Paton on the steps of a bungalow named “Row Allan” at Narrabeen, NSW. The Rev. Hugh Paton was minister at St. Stephen's church, Sydney between 1925 and 1933. Hugh and Marianne lived with daughter Agnes (married to Albert Phillips) at 6 Drumoyne Ave, Sydney. Hugh and Marianne are both buried in the Field of Mars Cemetery, Ryde.
